FORERUNNER OF OUR VICTORY

Did you remark that the Republicans of East Liverpool and the surrounding country were apathetic and that they had not fully awakened? Well, don't do it again. They are not only wide awake, but are exceedingly jubilant over the good news that is flashing over the wires, indicative of the fact that McKinley and Roosevelt and the entire Republican ticket, the whole happy shooting match, is en route for another four years of control of this government and an era of prosperity, under the blessing of a kind and merciful Providence.

And this grand news has caused the local committees to make Rome howl with gladness on Friday night, November 2, and you have a special invitation to participate. Honest Money Democrats, loving Old Glory and a sound currency, and having no desire to test soup houses under the control of Calamity Howler Bryan, are invited to take part in the jubilee, and even Prohibitionists, longing to return to the fold and have a share in our success and prosperity, will be welcomed with open arms, as we are working on the principle of "with malice towards none and charity for all" and we have no hatred or bitterness in our hearts against our wayward and wandering brethren.

Those in charge of affairs have done their best to make the route of parade such as to please and embrace all the territory and citizens and residences possible, and you are especially urged to decorate, illuminate and send off fireworks. Carck marching clubs from a distance will be in line. Splendid music will delight you. Rough Riders will add much to the occasion. Each ward of our city will participate in the jubilee, commanded by competent officers. A medal will be awarded to the ward having the largest and best organization in line.

After the parade, Thomas E. Murphy, son of the great temperance apostle, Francis Murphy, will address the meeting at the wigwam. Other speakers will be in attendance. Mr. Murphy is a brilliant orator, and he will set the heart of the lover of his country and the lover of prosperity and patriotism on fire. Don't fail to hear him. Don't miss the rich treat.

After the speaking all of the visitors will be served with sandwiches and hot coffee, as these little courtesies are fully appreciated on such occasions. Following is

The Route of Parade.

Parade will form on Broadway, right resting on East Market street and will move as follows:

Down Market to Sixth, down Sixth to Monroe, Monroe to Fifth, Fifth to Washington, Washington to Fourth,

Vote For Your Home, Your Wife and Your Children, —AND FOR THE— NATION'S HONOR AND PROSPERITY

Let manhood and common sense guide, direct and control your ballot. Cast party prejudice and partisanship aside. Four short years ago there was want and suffering and soup houses in the land. You know that this is a plain statement of plain truth. You know that Soup Houses existed in the City of East Liverpool. You know that women and children were forced, by the keen pangs of hunger, to patronize this charity. Strong and true men, who were willing to work could work have been had, ate the gift of charity at the hands of their friends.

WHAT WAS THE CAUSE OF THIS?

You know, and I know, and every reading, thinking, observant man and woman knows that this suffering and want and woe was caused on account of incompetent men being at the helm of this great government. The infamous Wilson Bill and the pernicious and criminally foolish doctrine of Free Trade did much to bring the curse upon us. During Grover Cleveland's administration; during the reign of the Democratic-Popocratic parties, Cleveland and his followers had full sway, having control of both Houses at Washington City; and, instead of decreasing the national indebtedness, they ran into debt and piled up an additional debt of Two Hundred and Sixty Millions of Dollars, and compelled us to become a Nation of Borrowers, at a heavy rate of interest, in order that government and people might simply exist; and they left this heritage of debt for a Republican administration to wipe out.

THESE ARE STERN FACTS.

And the great masses of the mechanics and toilers of the Nation know them to be facts, and you cannot fool the common people longer.

NOW NOTE THE CHANGE

Not quite four years ago the people called the Democratic-Popocratic party to a strict account and turned them out of office. And, oh my countrymen and fellow workingmen, what a change, under God's blessing, under the beneficent rule and wise control of William McKinley and a Republican form of government. Mills, mines, glass houses, potteries and every form of industry in the nation have opened up. Work for everybody who wants work, at good wages and shorter hours. An immense increase in the per capita of money to our people—the common people, the strength and bulwark of our country. Ring the truth out jubilantly, men and women and children.

IF BRYAN IS ELECTED, WHAT THEN

The foregoing are among the more immediate effects.

Ten or 12 years later on, after business and credit were restored, real estate and labor today worth $1 in gold would again be worth that, and if silver dollars were worth but 50 cents in gold, that real estate and labor would be worth $2 in silver, just as they are worth about $2 today in silver bullion. But those silver dollars would not be the silver dollars of today, because not interchangeable with gold, as ours are. They would only be worth half as much, and hence be different because depreciated.

As well might they think to profit by selling their farm or labor for francs instead of dollars, because it takes five francs to make a dollar, and they would consequently get five times as many of them, as that by selling for silver dollars, two of which make a gold dollar, they could make a profit.

All expenses of living would meanwhile have doubled, and as these advance faster than labor or real estate (which always rise last of all commodities) even after work was found, during the process of these 10 to 12 years, wages would not buy as much as they do today. Hence after severe suffering in the start, and after low wages and high prices for many years, the laborer would be no better off in the end.

And how would the farmer be benefited, if starting in debt, he had in the process lost his farm?

Mr. Bryan is very fond of insisting it is inconsistent to assert that the silver mine owner would make a profit in coining silver, and also that dollars would be worth only 50 cents.

It is not claimed that silver dollars will go to 50 cents the day the mint is thrown open, but decline gradually, and at first the silver mine owners could evidently make a large profit. When, by the coinage of his bullion, they had depreciated to 50 cents, his profit would cease; so that at one time he could make a profit and at another time we could and would have 50 cents dollars. A little thought solves Mr. Bryan's dilemma.

Bryan's Justification for the Panic.
What justification does Mr. Bryan offer for the infliction upon the community of this conceded panic? That as the laboring man is not a hog, he wants something more than a full dinner pail. But why not have the something more, and the full dinner pail also? What is the objection to that? If imperialism and trusts are, as he says, the paramount issues, why to fight these he must tack on a free silver panic? What objection is there to giving the country the benefits of an anti-imperialistic and anti-trust administration, and at the same time, saving it from a free silver empty dinner pail? This is the question that suggests itself—must we have free silver in order to fight imperialism? If not, why not fight it without free silver, and thus, if successful, have all its benefits without the free silver calamity? Why unnecessarily spurn a full dinner pail?

Now is it not a fact that we can fight imperialism and trusts without having free silver coinage? And if so, why not do so? What advantage is there in an empty dinner pail? If none, why insist upon free silver and an empty pail, when we could have fought imperialism and trusts with a full one?

But Mr. Bryan says No. Imperialism is paramount, but if you have it, you must have free silver too. You must go the whole hog or none.

Is this the kind of leadership and statesmanship we want?

If not, is it wise to choose him to lead?

In this great disaster capitalists could save themselves by buying exchange of foreclosing. The hardships and misery would fall upon the laborer, and those in debt, that is upon the mass of our people, and make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

Crime and lawlessness would necessarily increase, and driven by hunger and despair, become rampant.

Instead of more money, which Mr. Bryan promised us, we have seen that his election means a money famine for a year or more, and instead of "prosperity for the producers of wealth," there would be but losses, hardships and suffering.

In view of these inevitable, and many of them conceded consequences of Mr. Bryan's election, is it advisable to put him in?

Imperialism a False Issue.

After all, is not imperialism a false issue, of which there is no real danger to the country, which is only advanced to conceal other purposes or to gain power?

No one supposed for an instant that the American people would tolerate imperialism directed against themselves in any form, and the risk today is certainly not real. Nor would the majority of them willingly tolerate imperialism directed against others.

Nine-tenths of the American people today don't want the Philippines. But they are an elephant left on our hands by the fortunes of war, unsought on our part. When Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila harbor, and our army reduced the city, destroying the only government in existence there, ought we to have turned the city over to be looted by Aguinaldo and his followers, as the latter demanded? Ought we to have turned the American, English, German and other white inhabitants, as well as the peaceful Filipinos, over to anarchy; or ought we, having destroyed the only support of law, justice and protection to life and liberty in the city, to replace it with another government at least as good, especially as the city and all in it, by the express terms of the capitulation of May 13, 1898, were entrusted to our protection?

"This city, its inhabitants, its churches and religious worship, its educational establishments and its private property of all descriptions, are placed under the special safeguard of the faith and honor of the American army"; and then as soon as the inhabitants of the Philippines are capable of self government, to hand it over to them, as Mr. McKinley proposes? "It is our purpose to establish in the Philippines a government suitable to the needs and conditions of the inhabitants, and to give them self government when they are ready for it, and as rapidly as they are ready for it." (Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance.) This seems the only solution to the problem forced upon us.

Where in this plan is imperialism? And is not imperialism a false issue?

Grover Cleveland's Opinion.

"Buzzard's Bay, Oct. 7, 1900.
John S. Green, Esq.

"Dear Sir—I have received your letter, enclosing a copy of my letter written more than five years ago to the business men of Chicago. I had not seen it in a long time, but it seems to me I could not state the cases better at this time if I should try. I have not changed my opinion as herein expressed in the least.

"Yours truly,

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

The letter referred to concludes as follows:

"If reckless discontent and wild experiment should sweep our currency from its safe support, the most defenseless of all who suffer in that time of distress and national discredit will be the poor, as they reckon the loss in their scanty support, and the laborer or workingman as he sees the money he has received from his toil shrink and shrivel in his hand when he tenders it for the necessities of the humble home. I will not believe that if our people are afforded an opportunity for intelligent second thought, they will sanction schemes that, however cloaked, mean disaster and confusion." (N. Y. Herald, Oct. 12, 1900.)

Again the question arises, with all of these inevitable and many of them conceded consequences of Mr. Bryan's election, is it safe or advisable to put him in?

Friday night—Ed Murphy—wigwam.

Golden Rule Mayor Jones, of Toledo, at Opera House November 2.

A CRACK CLUB.

This Famous Organization Will Take Part in the Republican Parade Friday.

The Sewickley Republican club, 125 strong, promises to be one of the attractive features of the parade in East Liverpool next Friday night, bringing with them their own band of 25 pieces, under the direction of James S. Gray, who organized the famous Beaver Falls drum corps, which cut such a prominent figure in former campaigns, and created such enthusiasm in parades in many cities.

This organization is one of the best drilled clubs in the country, being largely composed of members of Battery B of Pittsburg, who served during the Spanish war in Porto Rico and is also officered entirely by veterans of the late conflict. A number of the 14th regiment, Pennsylvania, are included in its membership. The club is commanded by Captain Charles E. Ellis, formerly of Battery B, and a graduate of a military school, having also been one of the officers of the famous Sewickley cavalry troop, whose ranks were practically depleted by the enlistment of its members during the first call for troops in the Spanish war. Its civil officers include Frank L. Clark, manager of the American Steel Hoop company, well known in the Ohio valley, where several plants of the company are operated, who is president; Gilbert A. Hays, prominent in insurance circles in Pittsburg and a well known newspaper writer, is the secretary; Frank Semple, Jr., a member of Battery B and identified with one of the crack clubs of Pittsburg, is treasurer. Their uniform is a very handsome one, and the club carries one of the prettiest banners of the campaign, their appearance in the recent parade in Wheeling calling for continuous applause during their progress through the streets.

James S. Gray is an old acquaintance and personal friend of the proprietor of the News Review. Jimmie was for years a member of the regimental band of the Tenth Pennsylvania infantry. He is an estimable gentleman and an intelligent enthusiast in the line of music.

Watch out for the crack Sewickley club on Friday night, and keep your visual organs on the mammoth band.

THE CITY HAS BEEN SUED AGAIN

Two More Avondale Street Damage Claims Are Now In Common Pleas Court.

PARTIES WANT $600 APIECE

A Case IsAppealed From the Court of Squire McCarron, of This City.

ANOTHER EAST LIVERPOOL CASE

Lisbon, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Two suits, each asking $600 damages, were filed today against the city of East Liverpool. The plaintiffs, Josephine Kaufman and William H. Kinsey, each own property fronting on Avondale street and claim damages by reason of the grade established there two years ago.

It is claimed that in 1891 an unreasonable grade was established, but that the one established two years ago, in utter disregard of the rights of the property owners, was ruination to their property. The street in front of Kinsey's property was lowered 25 feet and in front of Mrs. Kaufman's 12 feet.

The case of Mary J. Massey against W. S. Culp has been appealed to court here from Justice McCarron's court in East Liverpool. In the lower court Culp confessed judgment for $650, due for rent, and $7.35 costs and gave an order for the amount to the justice on the D. E. McNicol Pottery company. Several hours later he returned and asked to see the order, when he tore it into shreds.

J. H. Brookes has sued for judgment again William Tucker, of East Liverpool for $530.22. Over two years ago Tucker bought an one-half interest in 3 1/2 acres of land in Liverpool township from Elizabeth Little, together with a right of way over a 6-acre tract to Carpenter's run.

The purchase price was to be $700, to be paid in payments and when the grantor transferred the account to Brookes the amount asked in judgment yet remained due and unpaid, and yet remained due and unpaid.

Lisbon, Nov. 1.—(Special)—The case of Polly A. Sanor, of North Georgetown, against A. W. Taylor and Louis P. Metzgar, of Salem, was all ready for trial in court when it was passed from the assignment owing to the ill health of Judge Ambler, who is one of the attorneys in the case.

When the defendants were law partners they were retained by the plaintiff to effect a settlement with one Jacob Sanor, which they did, collecting for her $2,350.

She says they paid her $1,850, keeping $500 as their fee. She claims the charge to be exorbitant and wants judgment for the amount less reasonable charges. A number of attorneys were in court to testify.

Every Month

In the year most women have to suffer for a week. At the best this suffering interferes with household activities and social enjoyments. At the worst it shuts the woman in a darkened room or confines her to bed. Most women can be completely cured of irregularity by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, stops enfeebled drains and cures female weakness.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. John W. Coffman, Ellensburg, Casey Co., Ky. "My wife suffered with female irregularity; was confined to bed every three weeks. After using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was cured, and has not suffered any derangement since. # IF BRYAN IS ELECTED, WHAT THEN

The foregoing are among the more immediate effects.

Ten or 12 years later on, after business and credit were restored, real estate and labor today worth $1 in gold would again be worth that, and if silver dollars were worth but 50 cents in gold, that real estate and labor would be worth $2 in silver, just as they are worth about $2 today in silver bullion. But those silver dollars would not be the silver dollars of today, because not interchangeable with gold, as ours are. They would only be worth half as much, and hence be different because depreciated.

As well might they think to profit by selling their farm or labor for francs instead of dollars, because it takes five francs to make a dollar, and they would consequently get five times as many of them, as that by selling for silver dollars, two of which make a gold dollar, they could make a profit.

All expenses of living would meanwhile have doubled, and as these advance faster than labor or real estate (which always rise last of all commodities) even after work was found, during the process of these 10 to 12 years, wages would not buy as much as they do today. Hence after severe suffering in the start, and after low wages and high prices for many years, the laborer would be no better off in the end.

And how would the farmer be benefited, if starting in debt, he had in the process lost his farm?

Mr. Bryan is very fond of insisting it is inconsistent to assert that the silver mine owner would make a profit in coining silver, and also that dollars would be worth only 50 cents.

It is not claimed that silver dollars will go to 50 cents the day the mint is thrown open, but decline gradually, and at first the silver mine owners could evidently make a large profit. When, by the coinage of his bullion, they had depreciated to 50 cents, his profit would cease; so that at one time he could make a profit and at another time we could and would have 51 cents dollars. A little thought solves Mr. Bryan's dilemma.

Bryan's Justification for the Panic.
What justification does Mr. Bryan offer for the infliction upon the community of this conceded panic? That as the laboring man is not a hog, he wants something more than a full dinner pail. But why not have the something more, and the full dinner pail also? What is the objection to that? If imperialism and trusts are, as he says, the paramount issues, why to fight these he must tack on a free silver panic? What objection is there to giving the country the benefits of an anti-imperialistic and anti-trust administration, and at the same time, saving it from a free silver empty dinner pail? This is the question that suggests itself—must we have free silver in order to fight imperialism? If not, why not fight it without free silver, and thus, if successful, have all its benefits without the free silver calamity? Why unnecessarily spurn a full dinner pail?

Now is it not a fact that we can fight imperialism and trusts without having free silver coinage? And if so, why not do so? What advantage is there in an empty dinner pail? If none, why insist upon free silver and an empty pail, when we could have fought imperialism and trusts with a full one?

But Mr. Bryan says No. Imperialism is paramount, but if you have it, you must have free silver too. You must go the whole hog or none.

Is this the kind of leadership and statesmanship we want?

If not, is it wise to choose him to lead?

In this great disaster capitalists could save themselves by buying exchange of foreclosing. The hardships and misery would fall upon the laborer, and those in debt, that is upon the mass of our people, and make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

Crime and lawlessness would necessarily increase, and driven by hunger and despair, become rampant.

Instead of more money, which Mr. Bryan promised us, we have seen that his election means a money famine for a year or more, and instead of "prosperity for the producers of wealth," there would be but losses, hardships and suffering.

In view of these inevitable, and many of them conceded consequences of Mr. Bryan's election, is it advisable to put him in?

Imperialism a False Issue.

After all, is not imperialism a false issue, of which there is no real danger to the country, which is only advanced to conceal other purposes or to gain power?

No one supposed for an instant that the American people would tolerate imperialism directed against themselves in any form, and the risk today is certainly not real. Nor would the majority of them willingly tolerate imperialism directed against others.

Nine-tenths of the American people today don't want the Philippines. But they are an elephant left on our hands by the fortunes of war, unsought on our part. When Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila harbor, and our army reduced the city, destroying the only government in existence there, ought we to have turned the city over to be looted by Aguinaldo and his followers, as the latter demanded? Ought we to have turned the American, English, German and other white inhabitants, as well as the peaceful Filipinos, over to anarchy; or ought we, having destroyed the only support of law, justice and protection to life and liberty in the city, to replace it with another government at least as good, especially as the city and all in it, by the express terms of the capitulation of May 13, 1898, were entrusted to our protection: ("This city, its inhabitants, its churches and religious worship, its educational establishments and its private property of all descriptions, are placed under the special safeguard of the faith and honor of the American army"); and then as soon as the inhabitants of the Philippines are capable of self government, to hand it over to them, as Mr. McKinley proposes? "It is our purpose to establish in the Philippines a government suitable to the needs and conditions of the inhabitants, and to give them self government when they are ready for it, and as rapidly as they are ready for it." (Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance.) This seems the only solution to the problem forced upon us.

Where in this plan is imperialism? And is not imperialism a false issue? Grover Cleveland's Opinion.
"Buzzard's Bay, Oct. 7, 1900.
"John S. Green, Esq.

"Dear Sir—I have received your letter, enclosing a copy of my letter written more than five years ago to the business men of Chicago. "Yours truly,
"GROVER CLEVELAND."

The letter referred to concludes as follows:

"If reckless discontent and wild experiment should sweep our currency

from its safe support, the most defenseless of all who suffer in that time of distress and national discredit will be the poor, as they reckon the loss in their scanty support, and the laborer or workingman as he sees the money he has received from his toil shrink and shrivel in his hand when he tenders it for the necessities of the humble home. I will not believe that if our people are afforded an opportunity for intelligent second thought, they will sanction schemes that, however cloaked, mean disaster and confusion." (N. Y. Herald, Oct. 12, 1900.)

Again the question arises, with all of these inevitable and many of them conceded consequences of Mr. Bryan's election, is it safe or advisable to put him in?

CHESTER WAS OUT IN FORCE

Made a Splendid Showing at the Republican Demonstration at New Cumberland.

PARADE WAS A BEAUTY

Enthusiasm Was High, and Fully 4,500 People Heard the Speeches.

NEXT GOVERNOR WAS PRESENT

New Cumberland was yesterday the scene of the largest and most enthusiastic Republican demonstration in the history of Hancock county.

Delegations were present from Wheeling, Steubenville, Toronto, Parkersburg, Wellsburg, Richmond, Empire, Freemans and, last but not least, Chester, which showed up with fully 100 representatives.

E. A. Hart, attorney-at-law of Cumberland, was master of ceremonies, and to him is due great credit for the success of the demonstration.

As early as 12 o'clock the people began to assemble and by 12:30 the streets were thronged with an enthusiastic crowd.

The Chester delegation arrived about 1 o'clock and shortly afterward the parade was started.

The procession formed on Chester street and moved thence on Filmore street to Ridge avenue, where the start was made. Justice James Bradley was chief marshal, and in company with his aides, did credit to the celebration.

The parade was headed by Potters' Acme band, Steubenville; next came the Elkins' cadets of Wheeling and the balance in the following order: Sam George Drum Corps, Wellsburg, Steubenville Rough Riders, 300.

Richmond band.

Richmond Rough Riders, 230. Cumberland Rough Riders, 500. Cumberland Bicycle Brigade, 50. Steubenville Drum Corps (Colored). Steubenville Marching Club, 50.

This was followed by carriages and buggies to the number of 216, all of which contained from two to nine people.

One of the notable features of the parade was the wagon of Ira Hall, of Hardin's Run, which, besides being profusely decorated with flags and bunting, contained a stuffed coon, an exact counterpart of "that same old coon."

William Barr, of Steubenville, had his automobile in the parade, and it added greatly to the attractiveness of the same.

Emory Hewitt and James McBean, the former being Republican candidate for county commissioner, got aboard at Arroyo, and took a prominent part in the day's celebration.

When the procession had gone over the line of march and the multitude had assembled on the south side of the court house, where a speaker's stand had been erected, fully 4,500 had gathered to hear the speaking.

Colonel R. H. Brown, of Arroyo, was chosen chairman of the meeting, and owing to the shortness of time omitted the calling of the list of vice presidents, which had already been published.

Colonel Brown, realizing the time was short, lost no time in introducing the speaker of the afternoon, Albert Blakesley White, of Parkersburg, whom he referred to as the next governor of West Virginia.

After greeting the assemblage the speaker said he was glad to learn since coming to the community that

Hancock county, along with the other counties of West Virginia, was enjoying her share of prosperity.

The gentleman had been a printer in his native county. He had struggled hard from one stage to another until he had reached the editor's desk. He was now a candidate for governor of the great state of West Virginia, and he expected to win.

If we were to have legislation such as the Democrats advocated it must be uniform. There could be no uniformity until West Virginia was put on a par with New Jersey in reference to the granting of charters for combinations and trusts.

All that this country had gained in the past had been brought about by legislation on the part of the Republican party.

Democracy had been kicking for years about the Standard oil trust. The Republican party gave them an opportunity through a constitutional amendment to crush this monopoly, but all the support the measure got was from the Republican side of the house.

The speaker said that there was nothing in the claim of Democracy that everything a combination of capital was interested in should be on the free list, for the reason that they were trusts.

"They make the claim that the tariff breeds trusts. How about Crocker's ice trust? There is no tariff on ice. The Arbuckles and other coffee combinations are enriching themselves because of the fact that there is no tariff on coffee. The car trust right here in my own district has had full sway ever since the prosperous times of '97 and thereafter, all because their product is on the free list. The only remedy for the trust evil is through a constitutional amendment and national legislation."

Mr. White had but a few minutes more to speak and he wished to say he was there to back West Virginia against the world. He wished to spend the remainder of the time in discussing questions that appealed to the average West Virginian every minute—every hour. "I am an optimist, not a pessimist. The Republican party does not claim to be absolutely perfect, but it does lay claim to providing the best government in the world, and West Virginia is one of the states that go to make up that government.

McKinley was elected on a platform that pledged to West Virginia, as well as other states, what was best for their welfare. Those pledges have been kept to the letter. West Virginia today has the largest lumber district in the nation. It was practically dead during Cleveland's administration. Five words contained in the Dingley tariff measure altered all this. They were: $2 a thousand on lumber. Stephen B. Elkins was in a great measure responsible for this.

Since then $30,000,000 had been added to the nation's income by reason of the opening of this industry. Prices have increased, wages paid to lumbermen have gone up, and $100,000,000 has been made from the product in three and one-half years.

"The way to secure and guarantee a continuance of these conditions is to send George to the senate and Hervey to the house of delegates. I have spoken in almost all of the 56 counties in the state of West Virginia and have the first complaint yet to hear. The present conditions are a source of gratification to all."

The speaker referred to the difference between the little town of Mingo in 1896 and at present. Then they had nothing to do. Mingo was at a standstill, the works were idle. Now there are just 1,950 men short of supplying the demand for workmen.

In closing the speaker urged the people of West Virginia not to try an experiment again. The Republican party had been tried and found to be all right, and when they went to the polls next week they should vote for the best interests of the Republic, and that would be the best interests of the best state in the union, West Virginia.

The chairman here introduced Captain E. B. Dovener, of Wheeling, who made a short address on the living issues. Dovener's address was well received by the assemblage, many of whom had been associated with him during the rebellion and since in various ways.

The last speaker proved himself an eloquent and logical speaker, and the convincing arguments advanced by him will furnish food for thought long after the presidential election.

The Chester delegation arrived home about 7:30 last evening, feeling that they had been greatly benefited and enlightened by having been present at the meeting.

Notes.

There was considerable drinking going on for a dry town, although it is presumed the people who indulged brought the stuff from Toronto or Steubenville. However, the representatives from this end of the county were very orderly.

Justice Johnson, of Chester, who is a candidate for reelection, was among the conspicuous figures both in the parade and on the speakers' stand.

Captain Dovener made a happy hit in reference to the cheap dollar. There was an old farmer of his acquaintance who insisted that it didn't matter how much real value was in a silver dollar, the fact that the government would label it a dollar would make it so, and Dovener supposed if they would label this same old geeser's red whiskers "hay" the horse would be bound to eat it.

Some of the most prominent Republicans of the county were approached yesterday as to the probable result in West Virginia, and the estimates range from 9,000 to 11,000 in favor of the Republicans.

Charley Allison, Democratic candidate for sheriff, was in Cumberland yesterday.

The East Liverpool newspaper men were royally treated, and are especially indebted to Hon. O. S. Marshall, Editor Brown, County Clerk Cooper, E. D. Marshall and others for courteous treatment.

THE SEARCH STOPS.

The Right Thing Has Been Found. An East Liverpool Citizen Shows the Way.

Once more we are indebted to an East Liverpool citizen for a public statement that throws more light on a subject of ever-increasing interest. People have been deceived by false misrepresentations from time immemorial. No wonder they are skeptical of all claims endorsed by strangers residing in far distant parts of the union. It is no longer necessary to accept such endorsements, for local citizens are giving their testimony, and 'tis an easy matter for any reader to investigate the correctness of such evidence as the following: Mr. R. H. Hawkins, an employee of Sebrings' pottery, who lives at 234 Second street, says: "I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidneys Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady aching pain with quick twinges now and then while stooping or lifting, that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored, feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag, I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

Prices have increased, wages paid to lumbermen have gone up, and $100,000,000 has been made from the product in three and one-half years.

"The way to secure and guarantee a continuance of these conditions is to send George to the senate and Hervey to the house of delegates. I have spoken in almost all of the 56 counties in the state of West Virginia and have the first complaint yet to hear. The present conditions are a source of gratification to all."

The speaker referred to the difference between the little town of Mingo in 1896 and at present. Then they had nothing to do. Mingo was at a standstill, the works were idle. Now there are just 1,950 men short of supplying the demand for workmen.

In closing the speaker urged the people of West Virginia not to try an experiment again. The Republican party had been tried and found to be all right, and when they went to the polls next week they should vote for the best interests of the Republic, and that would be the best interests of the best state in the union, West Virginia.

The chairman here introduced Captain E. B. Dovener, of Wheeling, who made a short address on the living issues. Dovener's address was well received by the assemblage, many of whom had been associated with him during the rebellion and since in various ways.

The last speaker proved himself an eloquent and logical speaker, and the convincing arguments advanced by him will furnish food for thought long after the presidential election.

The Chester delegation arrived home about 7:30 last evening, feeling that they had been greatly benefited and enlightened by having been present at the meeting.

Notes.

There was considerable drinking going on for a dry town, although it is presumed the people who indulged brought the stuff from Toronto or Steubenville. However, the representatives from this end of the county were very orderly.

Justice Johnson, of Chester, who is a candidate for reelection, was among the conspicuous figures both in the parade and on the speakers' stand.

Captain Dovener made a happy hit in reference to the cheap dollar. There was an old farmer of his acquaintance who insisted that it didn't matter how much real value was in a silver dollar, the fact that the government would label it a dollar would make it so, and Dovener supposed if they would label this same old geeser's red whiskers "hay" the horse would be bound to eat it.

Some of the most prominent Republicans of the county were approached yesterday as to the probable result in West Virginia, and the estimates range from 9,000 to 11,000 in favor of the Republicans.

Charley Allison, Democratic candidate for sheriff, was in Cumberland yesterday.

The East Liverpool newspaper men were royally treated, and are especially indebted to Hon. O. S. Marshall, Editor Brown, County Clerk Cooper, E. D. Marshall and others for courteous treatment.

THE SEARCH STOPS.

The Right Thing Has Been Found.
An East Liverpool Citizen Shows the Way.

Once more we are indebted to an East Liverpool citizen for a public statement that throws more light on a subject of ever-increasing interest. People have been deceived by false misrepresentations from time immemorial. No wonder they are skeptical of all claims endorsed by strangers residing in far distant parts of the union. It is no longer necessary to accept such endorsements, for local citizens are giving their testimony, and 'tis an easy matter for any reader to investigate the correctness of such evidence as the following: Mr. R. H. Hawkins, an employee of Sebrings' pottery, who lives at 234 Second street, says:

"I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidneys Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady aching pain with quick twinges now and then while stooping or lifting, that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored, feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag, I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

It is essential that Republicanism shall control the next house of representatives. Mark this down in the lining of your hat.

REMEMBER THIS.

Workmen, mechanics and toilers, potters, remember that a vote for Bryan means a vote for Free Trade; a vote for labor in Europe and against American labor in the United States.

CROKER AND JONES.

Croker has already signed himself a lawbreaker and tough in his advice to "knock down and drag out Republican officials," and now Chairman Jones, of the Bryan Democracy, has disgraced himself in the same manner. The blackguards must think that they are dealing with women and children. They will run against a stone wall and butt out their brains if they try that kind of work.

A SURE SIGN.

Drummers or commercial travelers have been visiting the News Review voluminously of late, and earnestly endeavoring to sell job materials of every character, with an occasional dash in the way of persuading us to purchase a car load of news, or newspaper material. Our invariable answer has been: "Not any investment until after the election." And then comes the answer: "Say, old man, can't you fellows let up on that matter? That's about the pith of the answer we receive to our demands on every hand. Have you proprietors of job offices and newspaper plants entered into a conspiracy to put us aside for political purposes?" And to this they get answer that the proprietor of the News Review is in full earnest on his part; that he will make purchases of supplies freely in case McKinley is elected on Tuesday next; otherwise, the purchases will be few and far between, as we look for hard times, panic, low wages, industries shut down and financial and business depression all over the land in case of Bryan's election, and we feel that the workingman who votes for such a candidate, knowing his past history and his advocacy of free trade and the unlimited coinage of silver, richly deserves all the suffering and privation he has voluntarily brought upon himself.

RUFFIANISM.

The American Press association is chronicling ruffianly work all over the United States on the part of the followers of Croker and Bryan. New York city has been largely controlled by the tough element for years, under the regime of Tammany Hall and such creatures as Dick Croker, ex-prize fighter and political heelers and bully, and Boss Croker, made bold by Bill Bryan's language that "Great is Tammany, and Croker is its prophet," has evidently issued orders that the leaders of the Republican party and their prominent speakers, conservative and law abiding citizens, can easily be brow-beaten and intimidated and possibly driven from the field at certain points. Bully Croker and his tough associates would better be careful! They are fooling with a very great danger. The rough is always a coward in moments of great emergency, where true courage, bravery and manhood are the requisites in demand; and the conservative and law abiding citizen is a dangerous man to fool with when pushed too far, and when "forbearance has ceased to be a virtue." Bryan and his employers, the silver kings, in common with the advocates of free trade, are evidently rendered desperate by the knowledge of the fact that their pet projects will be buried under an avalanche of ballots on Tuesday next, November 6, 1900, and they are making use of cowardly and vicious and reprehensible measures, in the hope that they may thus possibly stem the tide. The handwriting is on the wall. Bryan, free trade, free silver, anti-imperialism, anti-militarism, anti-trustism, anti-decency and anti-respectability, in common with all other isms calculated and made use of to deceive the people, will be buried so deep in the grave of oblivion on next Tuesday that they will never again be resurrected. "So mote it be." Vote the Republican ticket straight. Put your cross under the great American eagle and let her scream.

bully, and Boss Croker, made bold by Bill Bryan's language that "Great is Tammany, and Croker is its prophet," has evidently issued orders that the leaders of the Republican party and their prominent speakers, conservative and law abiding citizens, can easily be brow-beaten and intimidated and possibly driven from the field at certain points. Bully Croker and his tough associates would better be careful. They are fooling with a very great danger. The rough is always a coward in moments of great emergency, where true courage, bravery and manhood are the requisites in demand; and the conservative and law abiding citizen is a dangerous man to fool with when pushed too far, and when "forbearance has ceased to be a virtue." ## BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

It is essential that Republicanism shall control the next house of representatives. Mark this down in the lining of your hat.

REMEMBER THIS.

Workmen, mechanics and toilers, potters, remember that a vote for Bryan means a vote for Free Trade; a vote for labor in Europe and against American labor in the United States.

CROKER AND JONES.

Croker has already signed himself a lawbreaker and tough in his advice to "knock down and drag out Republican officials," and now Chairman Jones, of the Bryan Democracy, has disgraced himself in the same manner. The blackguards must think that they are dealing with women and children. They will run against a stone wall and butt out their brains if they try that kind of work.

A SURE SIGN.

Drummers or commercial travelers have been visiting the News Review voluminously of late, and earnestly endeavoring to sell job materials of every character, with an occasional dash in the way of persuading us to purchase a car load of news, or newspaper material. Our invariable answer has been: "Not any investment until after the election." And then comes the answer: "Say, old man, can't you fellows let up on that matter? That's about the pith of the answer we receive to our demands on every hand. Have you proprietors of job offices and newspaper plants entered into a conspiracy to put us aside for political purposes?" And to this they get answer that the proprietor of the News Review is in full earnest on his part; that he will make purchases of supplies freely in case McKinley is elected on Tuesday next; otherwise, the purchases will be few and far between, as we look for hard times, panic, low wages, industries shut down and financial and business depression all over the land in case of Bryan's election, and we feel that the workingman who votes for such a candidate, knowing his past history and his advocacy of free trade and the unlimited coinage of silver, richly deserves all the suffering and privation he has voluntarily brought upon himself.

RUFFIANISM.

The American Press association is chronicling ruffianly work all over the United States on the part of the followers of Croker and Bryan. New York city has been largely controlled by the tough element for years, under the regime of Tammany Hall and such creatures as Dick Croker, ex-prize fighter and political heeler and

EAST END.

F. F. F. F.

The Entertainment Given at the Home of Miss Martin Last Evening Was a Success.

The phantom party given by Miss Elizabeth Martin to the four F's and their friends last night was a splendid affair, about 40 guests being present.

Miss Mary Thompson found the ring and Miss Josephine Burford captured the thimble. The young men of the party all tried their fortunes, and with but few exceptions, their fate was to be that of a bachelor. The ladies are now sorry they spoke, since it will lessen their chances in the matrimonial line.

Much Mischief Done.

A great deal of mischief was done by the small boys in East End last night. A wagon belonging to John Arnold was hauled to Ralston's crossing, and a great deal of difficulty was experienced in getting it back home.

A glass door in the Dick Laughlin property on First avenue, occupied by Dr. Davis as an office, was broken and the awning in front of the store room in the same building was broken, the building being otherwise defaced.

The East End pharmacy came in for its share of decorations, and this morning resembled a bazaar store in a Paris thoroughfare.

Friday night—Ed Murphy—wigwam.

Three Parties.

Several Halloween parties were held in the East End last evening. A very pleasant party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Searight, St. George street, in honor of their little daughter Ora.

A dance was held at the residence of William Heckathorn, Pennsylvania avenue. A large crowd was present and an enjoyable time was had by all.

A crowd of young people surprised the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. Searight. A taffy pulling was held, and the guests departed at a late hour, having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

A Nuisance.

The East End authorities have been given a great deal of trouble the past few days by the presence of a large pile of old ties which was set fire to several days ago by the section gang. They were stacked so close to a valuable board fence the authorities were compelled to keep a constant watch lest the property be destroyed.

This is not the first instance of where the railroad employees have been very careless, and the people in that neighborhood are becoming extremely weary of the nuisance.

Officer Hamilton discovered gas escaping in the vacant room of the Frank Alabaugh building on Mulberry street about 1 o'clock this morning. The gas had been escaping all day and the officer's attention had been attracted by the noise. Upon entering the building the plug was found to have blown off and a wood one was substituted.

SOUTH SIDE.

Killed an Italian.

An Italian was killed yesterday afternoon on the Panhandle road east of Arroyo. The work train and crew of some 30 Italians have been engaged in some repairs to a trestle in that vicinity. The fellow was alighting from the train and fell between two cars. He was ground to pieces, several cars passing over his body.

He was taken to his home in Steubenville on the afternoon train due in New Cumberland at 3:23, and will be buried today.

Conductor John Dugan, of the work train, says the accident was due to carelessness on the part of the Italian, and that the crew were in no way to blame.

CAPTURED WHILE HE WAS AT WORK

Ben Thompson Tried to Rob the Meat Market of Morgan & Gottschall

BUT GOTTSCHALL CAUGHT HIM

He Had a Lantern and Was at Work Trying to Open the Safe.

NO CHARGE HAS BEEN FILED

Ben Thompson made an attempt to rob the meat market of Morgan & Gottschall on Walnut street at 12:30 o'clock last night.

Thompson has had no place to stay and for the past two months has been working and sleeping at the shop.

As last night was Halloween a number of young men took a horse belonging to Gottschall to his home on College street and tied it to the gate post. A passerby noticed the horse and reported to Gottschall. He dressed and started for the stable, passed the shop, and as the lights were lower than they were when they left, he thought something was wrong. He investigated and found Thompson sitting in the window with his coat wrapped around a lantern and trying to open the safe. Gottschall went into the store and when Thompson found that he was discovered, he pushed the lighted lantern, wrapped up in his coat, under the safe.

Last week they lost $7 from the shop and suspicions fell on Thompson, and he has been seen hanging around the safe several times.

Some hides were sold yesterday, and as it was too late to bank the money there was about $200 in the safe.

The police arrived on the scene shortly afterward, but Gottschall allowed Thompson to go his way and no charge was preferred against him.

DENIED BY GRIGGS.

Monnett's Statements Declared Untrue.

NEVER MET HIM BUT ONCE.

Sure He Did Not Write Him a Letter on Trusts, or In Conversation, Say That the President Had Been Indifferent to Their Prosecution.

Napoleon, O., Nov. 1.—The following letter from Attorney General Briggs, to J. R. Linthicum, chairman of the Republican committee of Henry county, relative to certain statements made by former Attorney General Monnett in a speech delivered here on Oct. 21, was made public:

Office of the Attorney General, Washington, D. C., Oct. 25, 1900.

Mr. J. R. Linthicum, Chairman Republican County Committee, Napoleon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 23d inst., in which you state that ex-Attorney General Frank S. Monnett, of Ohio, in a Democratic speech at Napoleon on the 22d inst., stated that I, in a letter to him and also in a personal interview with him, said that the reason why the trusts have not been prosecuted was that the President had been inactive and indifferent in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

Unless Mr. Monnett has taken leave of his senses, I cannot believe he ever made such a statement. So far as I can recall, or the records of this department show, I have never written him a letter upon any subject. I am sure that I never wrote him a letter upon the subject of trusts, nor in any wise alluded to the action of this administration with reference thereto.

As to his allegation that I made such a statement in a personal interview with him, that is also entirely untrue. I never met Mr. Monnett but once, and that was only for a few minutes, when he called to pay a visit of courtesy, being introduced to me by his predecessor, the present solicitor general, Hon. John K. Richards, of Ohio. I do not think or believe that the subject of trusts, or any other subject, except such as would arise in general conversation upon a visit of this nature, was touched upon. I am sure that I made no such statement as you say Mr. Monnett attributes to me. Nor could I have made such a statement, because it would have been untrue. The attitude and record of this administration on the subject of prosecution under the anti-trust laws are contained in the last annual report of the attorney general to congress, a copy of which is forwarded to you by this mail.

Very respectfully,
John W. Griggs,
Attorney General.

CROWDS AT BUFFALO.

Roosevelt Received a Welcome—Spoke at a Labor Suburb, Also at Meetings In City.

Buffalo, Nov. 1.—The train bearing Governor Roosevelt to this city made a pause at Black Rock, an industrial suburb of Buffalo and the northbound railway center of the city. The governor was accorded a splendid reception at this place and addressed a few remarks to the laboring people.

The streets through which he had to pass on his way from the depot to the city proper were crowded with people.

It had been planned to have the governor hold a reception because of the early hour of his arrival, but he was so fatigued with the day's work that he compromised by addressing the assembled people as a whole.

Governor Roosevelt spoke at three meetings last night, one on the East Side, in the industrial portion of the city, which was an open air affair and where so many people were gathered that less than one-half of them could hear the speaker. Another followed in a small hall, where the major part of the audience was composed of Italians, and the third and last in the immense convention hall, which was filled to the very doors. At this latter place the other traveling orators kept the audience interested for nearly two hours until the governor arrived.

BRYAN SPOKE IN CINCINNATI.

Harmon Presided at Meeting—Nebraskan Spoke at Other Places.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—The Democratic Presidential candidate, W. J. Bryan, made his first speech here last night of the present campaign. He arrived on a special train and went to Music hall, where he talked for about an hour. Hon. Judson Harmon, formerly attorney general under President Cleveland, presided at the meeting, and there were many other leading Democrats present.

The day was spent entirely in this state and the itinerary covered the country between this city and Toledo. Beginning with an hour's speech at Toledo at about 10 o'clock, Mr. Bryan spoke in succession at Wauseon, Napoleon, Ottawa, Lima, Wapakoneta, Sidney, Piqua, Troy, Dayton, Hamilton and College Corner. With the exception of the Toledo speech, none of the others of the day exceeded 25 minutes in length, and six of them were of only five minutes' duration each. A majority of the places where stops were made were small towns, and as a rule the crowds were not large. There were, however, fine audiences at Toledo, Wauseon, Piqua, Dayton and College Corner, as well as here.

26 PERSONS MISSING.

Four of These Not Known at Addresses Given—Tarrant & Co. Liable to Prosecution.

New York, Nov. 1.—A revision made of those persons missing and thought to have perished in the explosion and fire at Tarrant & Co.'s drug house shows 26 unaccounted for. Of this number four are not known at the addresses given by the persons reporting them as missing.

What looks like part of several bodies have been dug out. It begins to look as if what remains in the mass of debris which still cumbers the place will be totally unrecognizable as of human composition, even should the workmen find them.

What was supposed to be parts of bodies taken from the ruins Tuesday night turned out on examination at the morgue to be blackened pieces of melted gum arabic. Again Wednesday another mass was found which the workmen first thought to be human flesh, but is now thought to be melted rubber. The searchers have found in the ruins of the Home Made hotel a number of articles, such as books, a handkerchief, a cigar holder, etc., but whether their owners escaped or not is unknown.

Augustus F. Docherty, of the fire department, in speaking of the cause of the explosion, said:

"The combustibles carried by Tarrant & Co. were largely in excess of what were allowed them under the law, and their permit granted by the fire department, and in consequence of this fact they have violated the law. By violating the terms of the permit they have committed a misdemeanor, which not only violates their insurance policies, but renders them criminally liable and responsible for the damage to life and property as a result of the explosion. The fire insurance companies cannot be held for the damage."

YERKES CALLED ON PRESIDENT.

Major and Mrs. McKinley Took a Drive Other Callers.

Canton, O., Nov. 1.—When the President and Mrs. McKinley returned from a drive the porch was filled with people waiting to see them. John W. Yerkes, Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky, had an extended talk with the President. Samuel W. Taylor, of Urbana, former secretary of state of Ohio, now consul of Glasgow, Scotland, when he left the ship coming home on leave of absence, took a train direct for Canton and had a conference with the President. S. P. Wolcott, former state senator and at present a member of the board of directors of the Mansfield reformatory, talked over some political matters with the President.

Dr. Markbeller, of Chicago, who was to address a Republican meeting in German last night, called to pay his respects. E. W. Colt, a commercial traveler of Norwalk, also called.

He said that he and his friends among the drummers are for the continuance of the present administration.

FRANCE BALKS ON THIRD ARTICLE.

Cambon Instructed to Say That She Reserves Right to Protect Her Own Interests—United States Accepts All, Except Third—Not Our Concern.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The formal reply of Japan, unreservedly acceding to the terms of the Anglo-German agreement, has been received at the German foreign office.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Politique Coloniale makes the following announcement:

"The French ambassador to Great Britain, M. Paul Cambon, has received instructions to reply to the Anglo-German agreement that France adheres to the principles of the integrity of the Chinese empire and the open door, and that with regard to article 3 she reserves the right to act in such a manner as to safeguard her interests."

Washington, Nov. 1.—The British-German agreement respecting the maintenance of the open door and territorial integrity of China, with the answer of the United States government sent in duplicate to each of the principals to the agreement, was made public by the state department. Mr. Hay's reply to Lord Pauncefote follows:

Department of State, Washington, October 2.

Excellency—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 23d of October, enclosing the text of an agreement between Great Britain and Germany relating to the affairs in China which was signed in London on the 16th instant by the Marquis of Salisbury and the German ambassador on behalf of their respective governments, and inviting the acceptance of the United States of the principles recorded in that agreement. These principles are:

"1. It is a matter of joint and permanent international interest that the ports on the rivers and littoral of China should remain free and open to trade, and to every other legitimate form of economic activity for the nationals of all countries without distinction; and the two governments agree, on their part, to uphold the same for all Chinese territory so far as they can exercise influence.

"2. Her Britannic majesty's government and the imperial German government will not on their part make use of the present complication to obtain for themselves any territorial advantage on Chinese dominions, and will direct their policy toward maintaining undiminished the territorial condition of the Chinese empire."

The United States have heretofore made known their adoption of both these principles. During the last year this government invited the powers interested in China to join in an expression of views and purposes in the direction of impartial trade with that country and received satisfactory assurances to that effect from all of them. When the recent troubles were at their height this government, on the third of July, made an announcement of its policy regarding impartial trade and the integrity of the Chinese empire, and had the gratification of learning that all the powers held similar views. And since that time the most gratifying harmony has existed among all the nations concerned as to the ends to be pursued, and there has been little divergence of opinion as to the details of the course to be followed.

It is, therefore, with much satisfaction that the President directs me to inform you of the full sympathy of this government with those of her Britannic majesty and the German emperor in the principles set forth in the clauses of the agreement above cited.

The third clause of the agreement provides:

"In case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain under any form whatever such territorial advantages, the two contracting parties reserve to themselves to come to a preliminary understanding as to the eventual steps to be taken for the protection of their own interests in China."

As this clause refers to a reciprocal arrangement between the two high contracting powers, the government of the United States does not regard itself as called upon to express an opinion in respect to it.

A similar note was addressed on the same day by the secretary of state to the imperial German charge d'affaires.

MISSIONARIES CAN GO.

Assistant Secretary Hill Says Protection Will Be Accorded In China as Far as Possible.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Rev. Arthur J. Brown, one of the secretaries of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, received a letter from David J. Hill, assistant secretary of state, in connection with the information that the Rev. A. M. Cunningham and his wife, missionaries at Pekin, were about to return to their post, and requesting that the United States authorities in China be informed of their purpose if, in the judgment of the department, those authorities might interpose any objection to their return to the city.

"The conditions governing access of foreigners to the non-treaty towns of the interior, including Pekin, and their security there," writes Mr. Hill, "will necessarily be considered in the negotiations for a definite settlement between the government and the powers. While it would be premature to open an access to the Chinese interior for our citizens engaged in commercial or professional pursuits, there would seem to be no objection to Mr. Cunningham's return. The United States forces at Tien Tsin and Pekin would doubtless afford him all facilities for his return not in conflict with regulations which may have been adopted regarding the return of foreigners into the city. A copy of this correspondence will be sent to Minister Conger for his information."

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Politique Coloniale makes the following announcement:

EVENTS IN BRIEF.

At Monnessen, Pa., Tony Romain had his back broken by a fall of slate in the mines there.

Coroner Fitzpatrick, of Washington, Pa., was notified of the death at Monongahela, Pa., of Mrs. Van Vorhis.

Mrs. Hattie Harvey, a colored woman, was found dead at her home, No. 31 Kirkpatrick street, Pittsburg.

Robert Astor, a quarryman who was injured in an explosion at McKees Rocks, Pa., died of his injuries.

At the Cayuga colliery, at Scranton, Pa., George Osborne, a door boy, was struck by a fall of rock and crushed to death.

Four men are dead as a result of a mine explosion in No. 1 shaft of the Kingston Coal company, at Edwardsville, Pa., making seven dead.

The Pennsylvania Sabbath association met at Canonsburg, Pa. Resolutions adopted denounced the liquor traffic and Sabbath desecration.

At Washington, Pa., two colored men entered an Italian's fruit store and seized a small box containing $10 in money, ran down an alley and got away.

By the explosion of an alcohol vat at the Homestead steel works, at Homestead, Pa., Andy Dolike, Mike Dander and John Harnett were seriously burned.

At Jackson Corners, near Susquehanna, Pa., the residence of E. M. Tucker was destroyed by fire and the housekeeper, Miss Ennis Harris, was burned to death.

A 3-year-old son of Michael Shultz was probably fatally burned at Canonsburg, Pa., his clothing catching fire at a bonfire which some children had made.

At Beaver Falls, Pa., Chief of Police Perry Strayer arrested Clarence Wise, a deserter from the Columbus barracks. He was a recruit and left the post on Oct. 15.

A powder magazine at Nankin, China, has been exploded by lightning and it is reported many persons were killed or injured and much property was destroyed.

Alexander Batterman, alderman in the Tenth ward, Scranton, Pa., and an old employee of the Dunmore Iron and Steel company, was killed by a falling derrick.

At Duke, Alabama, a young negro named Abernathy was lynched for criminally assaulting the 14-year-old daughter of a man named Thompson, a section boss on the railroad.

Two men, William Shepherd, a miner, and Calvin Connor, his laborer, were killed by a fall of coal in the colliery of Anguilla Coal company, at Parsons, near Wilkesbarre.

At Washington, Pa., the coroner's jury, after inquiring into the condition of the boiler whose explosion killed William Kelly, found death accidental and the cause of the explosion unknown.

Charles Spurr, who jumped from the Smithfield street bridge, Pittsburg, and was saved to bathe for his life with typhoid fever at the Homeopathic hospital, is a deserter from the British army.

Harry Earle, charged with having and using dynamite in the riot of Aug. 23, at Akron, O., was found guilty. Earle is a member of Company B, Eighth regiment, O. N. G., and wore his uniform on the night of the riot.

Cornelius L. Alvord, Jr., the former note taker of the First National bank of New York, who embezzled $600,000 of the bank's funds, was rearraigned in police court, New York, but his examination was adjourned until today.

The six remaining companies of the Fourth Pennsylvania regiment and the Governor's troop broke camp in the Panther Creek Valley, Pa., and left for home, being no further need of the presence of militia in the coal regions.

At Chicago, during a quarrel between two boys, George Waterman, 6 years old, raised a shovel and struck Ernest Didier, aged 9, over the head with it. Didier was able to go home, but a few hours later he died. His skull had been fractured.

The Presbytery of Pittsburg held a memorial service for missionaries murdered in China. Rev. Fern, one of the survivors of the Pekin siege, spoke. Miss Charlotte Harris, an escaped missionary from China, and others talked at the session of the Presbytery.

Lipton's Corner Paid Well.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—As a result of his deal here Lipton is believed to have made $350,000. There were only 35,000 barrels of pork that could be delivered, and the Englishman owned them all, as well as twice that number bought from people who did not have a barrel they could deliver. The price went up to $20 a barrel.

FRANCE BALKS ON THIRD ARTICLE.

Campon Instructed to Say That She Reserves Right to Protect Her Own Interests—United States Accepts All, Except Third—Not Our Concern.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The formal reply of Japan, unreservedly acceding to the terms of the Anglo-German agreement, has been received at the German foreign office.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Politique Coloniale makes the following announcement:

"The French ambassador to Great Britain, M. Paul Cambon, has received instructions to reply to the Anglo-German agreement that France adheres to the principles of the integrity of the Chinese empire and the open door, and that with regard to article 3 she reserves the right to act in such a manner as to safeguard her interests."

Washington, Nov. 1.—The British-German agreement respecting the maintenance of the open door and territorial integrity of China, with the answer of the United States government sent in duplicate to each of the principals to the agreement, was made public by the state department. Mr. Hay's reply to Lord Pauncefote follows:

Department of State, Washington, October 2.

Excellency—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 23d of October, enclosing the text of an agreement between Great Britain and Germany relating to the affairs in China which was signed in London on the 16th instant by the Marquis of Salisbury and the German ambassador on behalf of their respective governments, and inviting the acceptance of the United States of the principles recorded in that agreement. These principles are:

"1. It is a matter of joint and permanent international interest that the ports on the rivers and littoral of China should remain free and open to trade, and to every other legitimate form of economic activity for the nationals of all countries without distinction; and the two governments agree, on their part, to uphold the same for all Chinese territory so far as they can exercise influence.

"2. Her Britannic majesty's government and the imperial German government will not on their part make use of the present complication to obtain for themselves any territorial advantage on Chinese dominions, and will direct their policy toward maintaining undiminished the territorial condition of the Chinese empire."

The United States have heretofore made known their adoption of both these principles. During the last year this government invited the powers interested in China to join in an expression of views and purposes in the direction of impartial trade with that country and received satisfactory assurances to that effect from all of them. When the recent troubles were at their height this government, on the third of July, made an announcement of its policy regarding impartial trade and the integrity of the Chinese empire, and had the gratification of learning that all the powers held similar views. And since that time the most gratifying harmony has existed among all the nations concerned as to the ends to be pursued, and there has been little divergence of opinion as to the details of the course to be followed.

It is, therefore, with much satisfaction that the President directs me to inform you of the full sympathy of this government with those of her Britannic majesty and the German emperor in the principles set forth in the clauses of the agreement above cited.

The third clause of the agreement provides:

"In case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain under any form whatever such territorial advantages, the two contracting parties reserve to themselves to come to a preliminary understanding as to the eventual steps to be taken for the protection of their own interests in China."

As this clause refers to a reciprocal arrangement between the two high contracting powers, the government of the United States does not regard itself as called upon to express an opinion in respect to it.

John Hay.

A similar note was addressed on the same day by the secretary of state to the imperial German chargé d'affaires.

MISSIONARIES CAN GO.

Assistant Secretary Hill Says Protection Will Be Accorded in China as Far as Possible.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Rev. Arthur J. Brown, one of the secretaries of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, received a letter from David J. Hill, assistant secretary of state, in connection with the information that the Rev. A. M. Cunningham and his wife, missionaries at Pekin, were about to return to their post, and requesting that the United States authorities in China be informed of their purpose if, in the judgment of the department, those authorities might interpose any objection to their return to the city.

"The conditions governing access of foreigners to the non-treaty towns of the interior, including Pekin, and their security there," writes Mr. Hill, "will necessarily be considered in the negotiations for a definite settlement between the government and the powers. While it would be premature to open an access to the Chinese interior for our citizens engaged in commercial or professional pursuits, there would seem to be no objection to Mr. Cunningham's return. The United States forces at Tien Tsin and Pekin would doubtless afford him all facilities for his return not in conflict with regulations which may have been adopted regarding the return of foreigners into the city. A copy of this correspondence will be sent to Minister Conger for his information."

Johnson to return to his post. He, with his wife, will sail for China on Saturday.

EVENTS IN BRIEF.

DENIED BY GRIGGS.

Monnett's Statements Declared Untrue.

NEVER MET HIM BUT ONCE.

Sure He Did Not Write Him a Letter on Trusts, or In Conversation, Say That the President Had Been Indifferent to Their Prosecution.

Napoleon, O., Nov. 1.—The following letter from Attorney General Briggs, to J. R. Linthicum, chairman of the Republican committee of Henry county, relative to certain statements made by former Attorney General Monnett in a speech delivered here on Oct. 21, was made public: Office of the Attorney General, Washington, D. C., Oct. 25, 1900.

Mr. J. R. Linthicum, Chairman Republican County Committee, Napoleon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 23d inst., in which you state that ex-Attorney General Frank S. Monnett, of Ohio, in a Democratic speech at Napoleon on the 22d inst., stated that I, in a letter to him and also in a personal interview with him, said that the reason why the trusts have not been prosecuted was that the President had been inactive and indifferent in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

Unless Mr. Monnett has taken leave of his senses, I cannot believe he ever made such a statement. So far as I can recall, or the records of this department show, I have never written him a letter upon any subject. I am sure that I never wrote him a letter upon the subject of trusts, nor in any wise alluded to the action of this administration with reference thereto. As to his allegation that I made such a statement in a personal interview with him, that is also entirely untrue. I never met Mr. Monnett but once, and that was only for a few minutes, when he called to pay a visit of courtesy, being introduced to me by his predecessor, the present solicitor general, Hon. John K. Richards, of Ohio. I do not think or believe that the subject of trusts, or any other subject, except such as would arise in general conversation upon a visit of this nature, was touched upon. I am sure that I made no such statement as you say Mr. Monnett attributes to me. Nor could I have made such a statement, because it would have been untrue. The attitude and record of this administration on the subject of prosecution under the anti-trust laws are contained in the last annual report of the attorney general to congress, a copy of which is forwarded to you by this mail.

Very respectfully,
John W. Griggs,
Attorney General.

CROWDS AT BUFFALO.

Roosevelt Received a Welcome—Spoke at a Labor Suburb, Also at Meetings In City.

Buffalo, Nov. 1.—The train bearing Governor Roosevelt to this city made a pause at Black Rock, an industrial suburb of Buffalo and the northbound railway center of the city. The governor was accorded a splendid reception at this place and addressed a few remarks to the laboring people.

The streets through which he had to pass on his way from the depot to the city proper were crowded with people.

It had been planned to have the governor hold a reception because of the early hour of his arrival, but he was so fatigued with the day's work that he compromised by addressing the assembled people as a whole.

Governor Roosevelt spoke at three meetings last night, one on the East Side, in the industrial portion of the city, which was an open air affair and where so many people were gathered that less than one-half of them could hear the speaker. Another followed in a small hall, where the major part of the audience was composed of Italians, and the third and last in the immense convention hall, which was filled to the very doors. At this latter place the other traveling orators kept the audience interested for nearly two hours until the governor arrived.

BRYAN SPOKE IN CINCINNATI.

Harmon Presided at Meeting—Nebraskan Spoke at Other Places.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—The Democratic Presidential candidate, W. J. Bryan, made his first speech here last night of the present campaign. He arrived on a special train and went to Music hall, where he talked for about an hour. Hon. Judson Harmon, formerly attorney general under President Cleveland, presided at the meeting, and there were many other leading Democrats present.

The day was spent entirely in this state and the itinerary covered the country between this city and Toledo. Beginning with an hour's speech at Toledo at about 10 o'clock, Mr. Bryan spoke in succession at Wauseon, Napoleon, Ottawa, Lima, Wapakoneta, Sidney, Piqua, Troy, Dayton, Hamilton and College Corner. With the exception of the Toledo speech, none of the others of the day exceeded 25 minutes in length, and six of them were of only five minutes' duration each. A majority of the places where stops were made were small towns, and as a rule the crowds were not large. There were, however, fine audiences at Toledo, Wauseon, Piqua, Dayton and College Corner, as well as here.

26 PERSONS MISSING.

Four of These Not Known at Addresses Given—Tarrant & Co. Liable to Prosecution.

New York, Nov. 1.—A revision made of those persons missing and thought to have perished in the explosion and fire at Tarrant & Co.'s drug house shows 26 unaccounted for. Of this number four are not known at the addresses given by the persons reporting them as missing.

What looks like part of several bodies have been dug out. It begins to look as if what remains in the mass of debris which still cumbers the place will be totally unrecognizable as of human composition, even should the workmen find them.

What was supposed to be parts of bodies taken from the ruins Tuesday night turned out on examination at the morgue to be blackened pieces of melted gum arabic. Again Wednesday another mass was found which the workmen first thought to be human flesh, but is now thought to be melted rubber. The searchers have found in the ruins of the Home Made hotel a number of articles, such as books, a handkerchief, a cigar holder, etc., but whether their owners escaped or not is unknown.

Augustus F. Docherty, of the fire department, in speaking of the cause of the explosion, said:

"The combustibles carried by Tarrant & Co. were largely in excess of what were allowed them under the law, and their permit granted by the fire department, and in consequence of this fact they have violated the law. By violating the terms of the permit they have committed a misdemeanor, which not only vitiates their insurance policies, but renders them criminally liable and responsible for the damage to life and property as a result of the explosion. The fire insurance companies cannot be held for the damage."

YERKES CALLED ON PRESIDENT.

Major and Mrs. McKinley Took a Drive Other Callers.

Canton, O., Nov. 1.—When the President and Mrs. McKinley returned from a drive the porch was filled with people waiting to see them. John W. Yerkes, Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky, had an extended talk with the President. Samuel W. Taylor, of Urbana, former secretary of state of Ohio, now consul of Glasgow, Scotland, when he left the ship coming home on leave of absence, took a train direct for Canton and had a conference with the President. S. P. Wolcott, former state senator and at present a member of the board of directors of the Mansfield reformatory, talked over some political matters with the President.

Dr. Markleiter, of Chicago, who was to address a Republican meeting in German last night, called to pay his respects. E. W. Colt, a commercial traveler of Norwalk, also called. He said that he and his friends among the drummers are for the continuance of the present administration.

Jury Instructed to Acquit.

Pittsburg, Nov. 1.—Judge John D. Shafer gave the jury trying Thomas Alexander, on a charge of murdering Alexander Wells, binding instructions to acquit the defendant. There was no evidence against him.

Montenegrins Attacked Austrians.

Vienna, Nov. 1.—A force of Montenegrins troops attacked an Austrian patrol at Kazanci. In the engagement two of the Montenegrins were killed and 10 wounded. The Austrians had two wounded.

Said Bryan Collapsed.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Press says Bryan collapsed, after delivering his speech in the Park theater, Brooklyn, Monday night, but doctors worked with him and he recovered.

MARKING BALLOT.

THE ONLY WAY TO DO IT TO HAVE IT COUNT.

Bryanism Must Not Only Be Defeated, But by So Overwhelming a Vote That It Will Never Raise Its Head in National Politics Again.

Don't mark your cross in front of McKinley's name, if you want to vote for him. Don't mark it in front of Roosevelt's name. You do not vote for the candidate direct, in voting for president, but the presidential electors who will vote for him.

To vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, and have it counted, put your X mark in the circle under the eagle. If you mark it in front of either candidate's name, you will mark it wrong, and your ballot will not be counted. Remember, in the circle under the eagle is the place to mark it good and strong.

Such a mark will vote the entire Republican ticket, and if on any particular candidate you have a desire to do anything else, you should put a mark in front of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote.

But the mark in the circle, under the eagle, is the vote that counts, and is the only way to vote right for president and vice president.

How He Knew.

A ragman who was gathering up wornout clothing in the country purchased a pair of discarded trousers at a farmhouse and remarked to the man of the house as he paid for the stuff he had bought:

"I see, sir, that you are about to lose your land on a mortgage."

"Guess you are right," said the discouraged looking farmer, "but will you tell me how the Sam Hill you found that out?"

"Easy enough," said the cheerful ragman as he settled back on the seat of his peddling wagon. "I notice that these old pants are completely played out so far as the part of 'em you sat down on is concerned, but they show mighty little wear anywhere else." — Buffalo News.

This morning 31 baskets of ware were shipped to Allegheny on the market car attached to the early east bound train.

John Hamilton is seriously ill with typhoid fever at the home of Mrs. Flora Vincent, corner of Cook street and Broadway.

Ora Turner was brought into the court of Squire McCarron on a charge of trespass preferred by Lizzie Ackley. The case was heard this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The one-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham died at their home on Grant street this morning. The remains will be taken to Cumberland this morning for interment.

Charles Scott was arrested and taken into the court of Squire McCarron on a charge of embezzling $2 preferred by Elmer Peters. Scott gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance on November 9.

The boys responded nobly to the invitation of the mayor with tick-tack and corn. He is just now searching for the fellow who stole his gate in order to pay him for his trouble, as he now proposes to buy a new one.

This morning pedestrians were surprised to see handsome large pictures of McKinley and Roosevelt displayed in the windows of Job H. Dawson's store. The pedestrians were glad to observe that Mr. Dawson had deserted the path of Democracy.

Franc Belkey, who had his left leg broken yesterday by falling from the building of Steinfeld & Viney on Sixth street yesterday afternoon, was taken on the 4:12 train to the Allegheny general hospital. He was accompanied by Dr. Clark. The fracture is a bad one and Belkey may be compelled to have the leg amputated.

MARKING BALLOT.

THE ONLY WAY TO DO IT TO HAVE IT COUNT.

Bryanism Must Not Only Be Defeated, But by So Overwhelming a Vote That It Will Never Raise Its Head in National Politics Again.

Don't mark your cross in front of McKinley's name, if you want to vote for him. Don't mark it in front of Roosevelt's name. You do not vote for the candidate direct, in voting for president, but the presidential electors who will vote for him.

To vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, and have it counted, put your X mark in the circle under the eagle. If you mark it in front of either candidate's name, you will mark it wrong, and your ballot will not be counted. Remember, in the circle under the eagle is the place to mark it good and strong.

Such a mark will vote the entire Republican ticket, and if on any particular candidate you have a desire to do anything else, you should put a mark in front of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote.

But the mark in the circle, under the eagle, is the vote that counts, and is the only way to vote right for president and vice president.

How He Knew.

A ragman who was gathering up wornout clothing in the country purchased a pair of discarded trousers at a farmhouse and remarked to the man of the house as he paid for the stuff he had bought:

"I see, sir, that you are about to lose your land on a mortgage."

"Guess you are right," said the discouraged looking farmer, "but will you tell me how the Sam Hill you found that out?"

"Easy enough," said the cheerful ragman as he settled back on the seat of his peddling wagon. "I notice that these old pants are completely played out so far as the part of 'em you sat down on is concerned, but they show mighty little wear anywhere else." — Buffalo News.

Be Here.

DECORATE AND ILLUMINATE

Route of Parade--Start at 8:30 P. M.
You Are Invited and Will Be Welcome.

FORERUNNER OF OUR VICTORY

Did you remark that the Republicans of East Liverpool and the surrounding country were apathetic and that they had not fully awakened? Well, don't do it again. They are not only wide awake, but are exceedingly jubilant over the good news that is flashing over the wires, indicative of the fact that McKinley and Roosevelt and the entire Republican ticket, the whole happy shooting match, is en route for another four years of control of this government and an era of prosperity, under the blessing of a kind and merciful Providence.

And this grand news has caused the local committees to make Rome howl with gladness on Friday night, November 2, and you have a special invitation to participate. Honest Money Democrats, loving Old Glory and a sound currency, and having no desire to test soup houses under the control of Calamity Howler Bryan, are invited to take part in the jubilee, and even Prohibitionists, longing to return to the fold and have a share in our success and prosperity, will be welcomed with open arms, as we are working on the principle of "with malice towards none and charity for all" and we have no hatred or bitterness in our hearts against our wayward and wandering brethren.

Those in charge of affairs have done their best to make the route of parade such as to please and embrace all the territory and citizens and residences possible, and you are especially urged to decorate, illuminate and send off fireworks. Each marching clubs from a distance will be in line. Splendid music will delight you. Rough Riders will add much to the occasion. Each ward of our city will participate in the jubilee, commanded by competent officers. A medal will be awarded to the ward having the largest and best organization in line.

After the parade, Thomas E. Murphy, son of the great temperance apostle, Francis Murphy, will address the meeting at the wigwam. Other speakers will be in attendance. Mr. Murphy is a brilliant orator, and he will set the heart of the lover of his country and the lover of prosperity and patriotism on fire. Don't fail to hear him. Don't miss the rich treat.

After the speaking all of the visitors will be served with sandwiches and hot coffee, as these little courtesies are fully appreciated on such occasions. Following is

The Route of Parade.

Parade will form on Broadway, right resting on East Market street and will move as follows:

Down Market to Sixth, down Sixth to Monroe, Monroe to Fifth, Fifth to Washington, Washington to Fourth,

Vote For Your Home, Your Wife and Your Children, —AND FOR THE— NATION'S HONOR AND PROSPERITY

Let manhood and common sense guide, direct and control your ballot. Cast party prejudice and partisanship aside. Four short years ago there was want and suffering and soup houses in the land. You know that this is a plain statement of plain truth. You know that Soup Houses existed in the City of East Liverpool. You know that women and children were forced, by the keen pangs of hunger, to patronize this charity. Strong and true men, who were willing to work could work have been had, ate the gift of charity at the hands of their friends.

WHAT WAS THE CAUSE OF THIS?

You know, and I know, and every reading, thinking, observant man and woman knows that this suffering and want and woe was caused on account of incompetent men being at the helm of this great government. The infamous Wilson Bill and the pernicious and criminally foolish doctrine of Free Trade did much to bring the curse upon us. During Grover Cleveland's administration; during the reign of the Democratic-Popocratic parties, Cleveland and his followers had full sway, having control of both Houses at Washington City; and, instead of decreasing the national indebtedness, they ran into debt and piled up an additional debt of Two Hundred and Sixty Millions of Dollars, and compelled us to become a Nation of Borrowers, at a heavy rate of interest, in order that government and people might simply exist; and they left this heritage of debt for a Republican administration to wipe out.

THESE ARE STERN FACTS.

And the great masses of the mechanics and toilers of the Nation know them to be facts, and you cannot fool the common people longer.

NOW NOTE THE CHANGE

Not quite four years ago the people called the Democratic-Popocratic party to a strict account and turned them out of office. And, oh my countrymen and fellow workingmen, what a change, under God's blessing, under the beneficent rule and wise control of William McKinley and a Republican form of government. Mills, mines, glass houses, potteries and every form of industry in the nation have opened up. Work for everybody who wants work, at good wages and shorter hours. An immense increase in the per capita of money to our people—the common people, the strength and bulwark of our country. Ring the truth out jubilantly, men and women and children.

THE GREATEST ERA OF PROSPERITY

This great and blessed country has ever known, under any president—under any administration.

WILLIAM M'KINLEY

Has been tested and tried. He has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting. He has kept his promises in the letter and in the spirit. And now, in the name of fairness; in the name of square treatment; in the name of justice and right; in the name of Old Glory and our national honor; in the name of your wife and children, go to the polls on November 6, 1900, and cast your ballot for

The foregoing are among the more immediate effects.

Ten or 12 years later on, after business and credit were restored, real estate and labor today worth $1 in gold would again be worth that, and if silver dollars were worth but 50 cents in gold, that real estate and labor would be worth $2 in silver, just as they are worth about $2 today in silver bullion. But those silver dollars would not be the silver dollars of today, because not interchangeable with gold, as ours are. They would only be worth half as much, and hence be different because depreciated.

As well might they think to profit by selling their farm or labor for francs instead of dollars, because it takes five francs to make a dollar, and they would consequently get five times as many of them, as that by selling for silver dollars, two of which make a gold dollar, they could make a profit.

All expenses of living would meanwhile have doubled, and as these advance faster than labor or real estate (which always rise last of all commodities) even after work was found, during the process of these 10 to 12 years, wages would not buy as much as they do today. Hence after severe suffering in the start, and after low wages and high prices for many years, the laborer would be no better off in the end.

And how would the farmer be benefited, if starting in debt, he had in the process lost his farm?

Mr. Bryan is very fond of insisting it is inconsistent to assert that the silver mine owner would make a profit in coining silver, and also that dollars would be worth only 50 cents.

It is not claimed that silver dollars will go to 50 cents the day the mint is thrown open, but decline gradually, and at first the silver mine owners could evidently make a large profit. When, by the coinage of his bullion, they had depreciated to 50 cents, his profit would cease; so that at one time he could make a profit and at another time we could and would have 50 cents dollars. A little thought solves Mr. Bryan's dilemma.

Bryan's Justification for the Panic.
What justification does Mr. Bryan offer for the infliction upon the community of this conceded panic? That as the laboring man is not a hog, he wants something more than a full dinner pail. But why not have the something more, and the full dinner pail also? What is the objection to that? If imperialism and trusts are, as he says, the paramount issues, why to fight these he must tack on a free silver panic? What objection is there to giving the country the benefits of an anti-imperialistic and anti-trust administration, and at the same time, saving it from a free silver empty dinner pail? This is the question that suggests itself—must we have free silver in order to fight imperialism? If not, why not fight it without free silver, and thus, if successful, have all its benefits without the free silver calamity? Why unnecessarily spurn a full dinner pail?

Now is it not a fact that we can fight imperialism and trusts without having free silver coinage? And if so, why not do so? What advantage is there in an empty dinner pail? If none, why insist upon free silver and an empty pail, when we could have fought imperialism and trusts with a full one?

But Mr. Bryan says No. Imperialism is paramount, but if you have it, you must have free silver too. You must go the whole hog or none.

Is this the kind of leadership and statesmanship we want?

If not, is it wise to choose him to lead?

In this great disaster capitalists could save themselves by buying exchange of foreclosing. The hardships and misery would fall upon the laborer, and those in debt, that is upon the mass of our people, and make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

Crime and lawlessness would necessarily increase, and driven by hunger and despair, become rampant.

Instead of more money, which Mr. Bryan promised us, we have seen that his election means a money famine for a year or more, and instead of "prosperity for the producers of wealth," there would be but losses, hardships and suffering.

In view of these inevitable, and many of them conceded consequences of Mr. Bryan's election, is it advisable to put him in?

Imperialism a False Issue.

After all, is not imperialism a false issue, of which there is no real danger to the country, which is only advanced to conceal other purposes or to gain power?

No one supposed for an instant that the American people would tolerate imperialism directed against themselves in any form, and the risk today is certainly not real. Nor would the majority of them willingly tolerate imperialism directed against others.

Nine-tenths of the American people today don't want the Philippines. But they are an elephant left on our hands by the fortunes of war, unsought on our part. When Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila harbor, and our army reduced the city, destroying the only government in existence there, ought we to have turned the city over to be looted by Aguinaldo and his followers, as the latter demanded? Ought we to have turned the American, English, German and other white inhabitants, as well as the peaceful Filipinos, over to anarchy; or ought we, having destroyed the only support of law, justice and protection to life and liberty in the city, to replace it with another government at least as good, especially as the city and all in it, by the express terms of the capitulation of May 13, 1898, were entrusted to our protection: ("This city, its inhabitants, its churches and religious worship, its educational establishments and its private property of all descriptions, are placed under the special safeguard of the faith and honor of the American army"); and then as soon as the inhabitants of the Philippines are capable of self government, to hand it over to them, as Mr. McKinley proposes? "It is our purpose to establish in the Philippines a government suitable to the needs and conditions of the inhabitants, and to give them self government when they are ready for it, and as rapidly as they are ready for it." (Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance.) This seems the only solution to the problem forced upon us.

Where in this plan is imperialism? And is not imperialism a false issue? Grover Cleveland's Opinion.
"Buzzard's Bay, Oct. 7, 1900.
John S. Green, Esq.

"Dear Sir—I have received your letter, enclosing a copy of my letter written more than five years ago to the business men of Chicago. I had not seen it in a long time, but it seems to me I could not state the cases better at this time if I should try. I have not changed my opinion as herein expressed in the least.

"Yours truly,
"GROVER CLEVELAND."

The letter referred to concludes as follows:

"If reckless discontent and wild experiment should sweep our currency

from its safe support, the most defenseless of all who suffer in that time of distress and national discredit will be the poor, as they reckon the loss in their scanty support, and the laborer or workingman as he sees the money he has received from his toil shrink and shrivel in his hand when he tenders it for the necessities of the humble home. I will not believe that if our people are afforded an opportunity for intelligent second thought, they will sanction schemes that, however cloaked, mean disaster and confusion." (N. Y. Herald, Oct. 12, 1900.)

Again the question arises, with all of these inevitable and many of them conceded consequences of Mr. Bryan's election, is it safe or advisable to put him in?

A CRACK CLUB.

This Famous Organization Will Take Part in the Republican Parade Friday.

The Sewickley Republican club, 125 strong, promises to be one of the attractive features of the parade in East Liverpool next Friday night, bringing with them their own band of 25 pieces, under the direction of James S. Gray, who organized the famous Beaver Falls drum corps, which cut such a prominent figure in former campaigns, and created such enthusiasm in parades in many cities.

This organization is one of the best drilled clubs in the country, being largely composed of members of Battery B of Pittsburg, who served during the Spanish war in Porto Rico and is also officered entirely by veterans of the late conflict. A number of the 14th regiment, Pennsylvania, are included in its membership. The club is commanded by Captain Charles E. Ellis, formerly of Battery B, and a graduate of a military school, having also been one of the officers of the famous Sewickley cavalry troop, whose ranks were practically depleted by the enlistment of its members during the first call for troops in the Spanish war. Its civil officers include Frank L. Clark, manager of the American Steel Hoop company, well known in the Ohio valley, where several plants of the company are operated, who is president; Gilbert A. Hays, prominent in insurance circles in Pittsburg and a well known newspaper writer, is the secretary; Frank Semple, Jr., a member of Battery B and identified with one of the crack clubs of Pittsburg, is treasurer. Their uniform is a very handsome one, and the club carries one of the prettiest banners of the campaign, their appearance in the recent parade in Wheeling calling for continuous applause during their progress through the streets.

James S. Gray is an old acquaintance and personal friend of the proprietor of the News Review. Jimmie was for years a member of the regimental band of the Tenth Pennsylvania infantry. He is an estimable gentleman and an intelligent enthusiast in the line of music.

Watch out for the crack Sewickley club on Friday night, and keep your visual organs on the mammoth band.

Two More Avondale Street Damage Claims Are Now In Common Pleas Court.

PARTIES WANT $600 APIECE

A Case IsAppealed From the Court of Squire McCarron, of This City.

ANOTHER EAST LIVERPOOL CASE

Lisbon, Nov. 1.—(Special)—Two suits, each asking $600 damages, were filed today against the city of East Liverpool. The plaintiffs, Josephine Kaufman and William H. Kinsey, each own property fronting on Avondale street and claim damages by reason of the grade established there two years ago.

It is claimed that in 1891 an unreasonable grade was established, but that the one established two years ago, in utter disregard of the rights of the property owners, was ruination to their property. The street in front of Kinsey's property was lowered 25 feet and in front of Mrs. Kaufman's 12 feet.

The case of Mary J. Massey against W. S. Culp has been appealed to court here from Justice McCarron's court in East Liverpool. In the lower court Culp confessed judgment for $6 50, due for rent, and $7 35 costs and gave an order for the amount to the justice on the D. E. McNicol Pottery company. Several hours later he returned and asked to see the order, when he tore it into shreds.

J. H. Brookes has sued for judgment against William Tucker, of East Liverpool, for $530 22. Over two years ago Tucker bought an one-half interest in 3 1/2 acres of land in Liverpool township from Elizabeth Little, together with a right of way over a 6-acre tract to Carpenter's run.

The purchase price was to be $700, to be paid in payments and when the grantor transferred the account to Brookes the amount asked in judgment yet remained due and unpaid, and yet remained due and unpaid.

Polly A. Sanor Thought a Fee of $500 Too Much for Her Lawyers.

Lisbon, Nov. 1.—(Special)—The case of Polly A. Sanor, of North Georgetown, against A. W. Taylor and Louis P. Metzgar, of Salem, was all ready for trial in court when it was passed from the assignment owing to the ill health of Judge Ambler, who is one of the attorneys in the case.

When the defendants were law partners they were retained by the plaintiff to effect a settlement with one Jacob Sanor, which they did, collecting for her $2,350.

She says they paid her $1,850, keeping $500 as their fee. She claims the charge to be exorbitant and wants judgment for the amount less reasonable charges. A number of attorneys were in court to testify.

In the year most women have to suffer for a week. At the best this suffering interferes with household activities and social enjoyments. At the worst it shuts the woman in a darkened room or confines her to bed. Most women can be completely cured of irregularity by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, stops enfeebled drains and cures female weakness.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. John W. Coffman, Ellensburg, Casey Co., Ky. # CHESTER WAS OUT IN FORCE

Made a Splendid Showing at the Republican Demonstration at New Cumberland.

PARADE WAS A BEAUTY

Enthusiasm Was High, and Fully 4,500 People Heard the Speeches.

NEXT GOVERNOR WAS PRESENT

New Cumberland was yesterday the scene of the largest and most enthusiastic Republican demonstration in the history of Hancock county.

Delegations were present from Wheeling, Steubenville, Toronto, Parkersburg, Wellsburg, Richmond, Empire, Freemans and, last but not least, Chester, which showed up with fully 100 representatives.

E. A. Hart, attorney-at-law of Cumberland, was master of ceremonies, and to him is due great credit for the success of the demonstration.

As early as 12 o'clock the people began to assemble and by 12:30 the streets were thronged with an enthusiastic crowd.

The Chester delegation arrived about 1 o'clock and shortly afterward the parade was started.

The procession formed on Chester street and moved thence on Filmore street to Ridge avenue, where the start was made. Justice James Bradley was chief marshal, and in company with his aides, did credit to the celebration.

The parade was headed by Potters' Acme band, Steubenville; next came the Elkins' cadets of Wheeling and the balance in the following order: Sam George Drum Corps, Wellsburg. Steubenville Rough Riders, 300. Richmond band. Richmond Rough Riders, 230. Cumberland Rough Riders, 500. Cumberland Bicycle Brigade, 50. Steubenville Drum Corps (Colored). Steubenville Marching Club, 50.

This was followed by carriages and buggies to the number of 216, all of which contained from two to nine people.

One of the notable features of the parade was the wagon of Ira Hall, of Hardin's Run, which, besides being profusely decorated with flags and bunting, contained a stuffed coon, an exact counterpart of "that same old coon."

William Barr, of Steubenville, had his automobile in the parade, and it added greatly to the attractiveness of the same.

Emory Hewitt and James McBean, the former being Republican candidate for county commissioner, got aboard at Arroyo, and took a prominent part in the day's celebration.

When the procession had gone over the line of march and the multitude had assembled on the south side of the court house, where a speaker's stand had been erected, fully 4,500 had gathered to hear the speaking.

Colonel R. H. Brown, of Arroyo, was chosen chairman of the meeting, and owing to the shortness of time omitted the calling of the list of vice presidents, which had already been published.

Colonel Brown, realizing the time was short, lost no time in introducing the speaker of the afternoon, Albert Blakesley White, of Parkersburg, whom he referred to as the next governor of West Virginia.

After greeting the assemblage the speaker said he was glad to learn since coming to the community that

Hancock county, along with the other counties of West Virginia, was enjoying her share of prosperity.

The gentleman had been a printer in his native county. He had struggled hard from one stage to another until he had reached the editor's desk. He was now a candidate for governor of the great state of West Virginia, and he expected to win.

If we were to have legislation such as the Democrats advocated it must be uniform. There could be no uniformity until West Virginia was put on a par with New Jersey in reference to the granting of charters for combinations and trusts.

All that this country had gained in the past had been brought about by legislation on the part of the Republican party.

Democracy had been kicking for years about the Standard oil trust. The Republican party gave them an opportunity through a constitutional amendment to crush this monopoly, but all the support the measure got was from the Republican side of the house.

The speaker said that there was nothing in the claim of Democracy that everything a combination of capital was interested in should be on the free list, for the reason that they were trusts.

"They make the claim that the tariff breeds trusts. How about Croker's ice trust? There is no tariff on ice. The Arbuckles and other coffee combinations are enriching themselves because of the fact that there is no tariff on coffee. The car trust right here in my own district has had full sway ever since the prosperous times of '97 and thereafter, all because their product is on the free list. The only remedy for the trust evil is through a constitutional amendment and national legislation."

Mr. White had but a few minutes more to speak and he wished to say he was there to back West Virginia against the world. He wished to spend the remainder of the time in discussing questions that appealed to the average West Virginian every minute—every hour. "I am an optimist, not a pessimist. The Republican party does not claim to be absolutely perfect, but it does lay claim to providing the best government in the world, and West Virginia is one of the states that go to make up that government.

"McKinley was elected on a platform that pledged to West Virginia, as well as other states, what was best for their welfare. Those pledges have been kept to the letter. West Virginia today has the largest lumber district in the nation. It was practically dead during Cleveland's administration. Five words contained in the Dingley tariff measure altered all this. They were: $2 a thousand on lumber. Stephen B. Elkins was in a great measure responsible for this. Since then $30,000,000 had been added to the nation's income by reason of the opening of this industry. Prices have increased, wages paid to lumbermen have gone up, and $100,000,000 has been made from the product in three and one-half years.

"The way to secure and guarantee a continuance of these conditions is to send George to the senate and Hervey to the house of delegates. I have spoken in almost all of the 56 counties in the state of West Virginia and have the first complaint yet to hear. The present conditions are a source of gratification to all."

The speaker referred to the difference between the little town of Mingo in 1896 and at present. Then they had nothing to do. Mingo was at a standstill, the works were idle. Now there are just 1,950 men short of supplying the demand for workmen.

In closing the speaker urged the people of West Virginia not to try an experiment again. The Republican party had been tried and found to be all right, and when they went to the polls next week they should vote for the best interests of the Republic, and that would be the best interests of the best state in the union, West Virginia.

The chairman here introduced Captain E. B. Dovener, of Wheeling, who made a short address on the living issues. Dovener's address was well received by the assemblage, many of whom had been associated with him during the rebellion and since in various ways.

The last speaker proved himself an eloquent and logical speaker, and the convincing arguments advanced by him will furnish food for thought long after the presidential election.

The Chester delegation arrived home about 7:30 last evening, feeling that they had been greatly benefited and enlightened by having been present at the meeting.

Notes.

There was considerable drinking going on for a dry town, although it is presumed the people who indulged brought the stuff from Toronto or Steubenville. However, the representatives from this end of the county were very orderly.

Justice Johnson, of Chester, who is a candidate for reelection, was among the conspicuous figures both in the parade and on the speakers' stand.

Captain Dovener made a happy hit in reference to the cheap dollar. There was an old farmer of his acquaintance who insisted that it didn't matter how much real value was in a silver dollar, the fact that the government would label it a dollar would make it so, and Dovener supposed if they would label this same old geese's red whiskers "hay" the horse would be bound to eat it.

Some of the most prominent Republicans of the county were approached yesterday as to the probable result in West Virginia, and the estimates range from 9,000 to 11,000 in favor of the Republicans.

Charley Allison, Democratic candidate for sheriff, was in Cumberland yesterday.

The East Liverpool newspaper men were royally treated, and are especially indebted to Hon. O. S. Marshall, Editor Brown, County Clerk Cooper, E. D. Marshall and others for courteous treatment.

THE SEARCH STOPS.

The Right Thing Has Been Found. An East Liverpool Citizen Shows the Way.

Once more we are indebted to an East Liverpool citizen for a public statement that throws more light on a subject of ever-increasing interest. People have been deceived by false misrepresentations from time immemorial. No wonder they are skeptical of all claims endorsed by strangers residing in far distant parts of the union. It is no longer necessary to accept such endorsements, for local citizens are giving their testimony, and 'tis an easy matter for any reader to investigate the correctness of such evidence as the following: Mr. R. H. Hawkins, an employee of Sebrings' pottery, who lives at 234 Second street, says: "I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidneys Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady aching pain with quick twinges now and then while stooping or lifting, that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored, feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag, I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

It is essential that Republicanism shall control the next house of representatives. Mark this down in the lining of your hat.

REMEMBER THIS.

Workmen, mechanics and toilers, potters, remember that a vote for Bryan means a vote for Free Trade; a vote for labor in Europe and against American labor in the United States.

CROKER AND JONES.

Croker has already signed himself a lawbreaker and tough in his advice to "knock down and drag out Republican officials," and now Chairman Jones, of the Bryan Democracy, has disgraced himself in the same manner. The blackguards must think that they are dealing with women and children. They will run against a stone wall and butt out their brains if they try that kind of work.

A SURE SIGN.

Drummers or commercial travelers have been visiting the News Review voluminously of late, and earnestly endeavoring to sell job materials of every character, with an occasional dash in the way of persuading us to purchase a car load of news, or newspaper material. Our invariable answer has been: "Not any investment until after the election." And then comes the answer: "Say, old man, can't you fellows let up on that matter? That's about the pith of the answer we receive to our demands on every hand. Have you proprietors of job offices and newspaper plants entered into a conspiracy to put us aside for political purposes?" And to this they get answer that the proprietor of the News Review is in full earnest on his part; that he will make purchases of supplies freely in case McKinley is elected on Tuesday next; otherwise, the purchases will be few and far between, as we look for hard times, panic, low wages, industries shut down and financial and business depression all over the land in case of Bryan's election, and we feel that the workingman who votes for such a candidate, knowing his past history and his advocacy of free trade and the unlimited coinage of silver, richly deserves all the suffering and privation he has voluntarily brought upon himself.

RUFFIANISM.

The American Press association is chronicling ruffianly work all over the United States on the part of the followers of Croker and Bryan. New York city has been largely controlled by the tough element for years, under the regime of Tammany Hall and such creatures as Dick Croker, ex-prize fighter and political heeler and bully, and Boss Croker, made bold by Bill Bryan's language that "Great is Tammany, and Croker is its prophet," has evidently issued orders that the leaders of the Republican party and their prominent speakers, conservative and law abiding citizens, can easily be brow-beaten and intimidated and possibly driven from the field at certain points. Bully Croker and his tough associates would better be careful. They are fooling with a very great danger. The rough is always a coward in moments of great emergency, where true courage, bravery and manhood are the requisites in demand, and the conservative and law abiding citizen is a dangerous man to fool with when pushed too far, and when "forbearance has ceased to be a virtue." Bryan and his employers, the silver kings, in common with the advocates of free trade, are evidently rendered desperate by the knowledge of the fact that their pet projects will be buried under an avalanche of ballots on Tuesday next, November 6, 1900, and they are making use of cowardly and vicious and reprehensible measures, in the hope that they may thus possibly stem the tide. The handwriting is on the wall. Bryan, free trade, free silver, anti-imperialism, anti-militarism, anti-trustism, anti-decency and anti-respectability, in common with all other isms calculated and made use of to deceive the people, will be buried so deep in the grave of oblivion on next Tuesday that they will never again be resurrected. "So mote it be." Vote the Republican ticket straight. Put your cross under the great American eagle and let her scream.

The Entertainment Given at the Home of Miss Martin Last Evening Was a Success.

The phantom party given by Miss Elizabeth Martin to the four F's and their friends last night was a splendid affair, about 40 guests being present.

Miss Mary Thompson found the ring and Miss Josephine Burford captured the thimble. The young men of the party all tried their fortunes, and with but few exceptions, their fate was to be that of a bachelor. Much Mischief Done.

A great deal of mischief was done by the small boys in East End last night. A wagon belonging to John Arnold was hauled to Ralston's crossing, and a great deal of difficulty was experienced in getting it back home.

A glass door in the Dick Laughlin property on First avenue, occupied by Dr. Davis as an office, was broken and the awning in front of the store room in the same building was broken, the building being otherwise defaced.

The East End pharmacy came in for its share of decorations, and this morning resembled a bazaar store in a Paris thoroughfare.

A Nuisance.

The East End authorities have been given a great deal of trouble the past few days by the presence of a large pile of old ties which was set fire to several days ago by the section gang. They were stacked so close to a valuable board fence the authorities were compelled to keep a constant watch lest the property be destroyed.

This is not the first instance of where the railroad employees have been very careless, and the people in that neighborhood are becoming extremely weary of the nuisance.

An Italian was killed yesterday afternoon on the Panhandle road east of Arroyo. The work train and crew of some 30 Italians have been engaged in some repairs to a trestle in that vicinity. The fellow was alighting from the train and fell between two cars. He was ground to pieces, several cars passing over his body.

He was taken to his home in Steubenville on the afternoon train due in New Cumberland at 3:23, and will be buried today.

Conductor John Dugan, of the work train, says the accident was due to carelessness on the part of the Italian, and that the crew were in no way to blame.

He Did Not Have Much to Say in Regard to the New Railroad.

Colonel Harry Frease was in the city yesterday and left on the afternoon train for Canton. The only thing he had to say was that the "Canton and East Liverpool Railway company had the only low grade route directly west from the upper Ohio valley, the interests of East Liverpool had been conserved in this route and if the company received the proper encouragement from communities in which they had not yet taken rights of way the road would be built."

CAPTURED WHILE HE WAS AT WORK

Ben Thompson Tried to Rob the Meat Market of Morgan & Gottschall

BUT GOTTSCHALL CAUGHT HIM

He Had a Lantern and Was at Work Trying to Open the Safe.

NO CHARGE HAS BEEN FILED

Ben Thompson made an attempt to rob the meat market of Morgan & Gottschall on Walnut street at 12:30 o'clock last night.

Thompson has had no place to stay and for the past two months has been working and sleeping at the shop.

As last night was Halloween a number of young men took a horse belonging to Gottschall to his home on College street and tied it to the gate post. A passerby noticed the horse and reported to Gottschall. He dressed and started for the stable, passed the shop, and as the lights were lower than they were when they left, he thought something was wrong. He investigated and found Thompson sitting in the window with his coat wrapped around a lantern and trying to open the safe. Gottschall went into the store and when Thompson found that he was discovered, he pushed the lighted lantern, wrapped up in his coat, under the safe.

Last week they lost $7 from the shop and suspicions fell on Thompson, and he has been seen hanging around the safe several times.

Some hides were sold yesterday, and as it was too late to bank the money there was about $200 in the safe.

The police arrived on the scene shortly afterward, but Gottschall allowed Thompson to go his way and no charge was preferred against him.

DENIED BY GRIGGS.

Monnett's Statements Declared
Untrue.

NEVER MET HIM BUT ONCE.

Sure He Did Not Write Him a Letter on Trusts, or In Conversation, Say That the President Had Been Indifferent to Their Prosecution.

Napoleon, O., Nov. 1.—The following letter from Attorney General Briggs, to J. R. Linthicum, chairman of the Republican committee of Henry county, relative to certain statements made by former Attorney General Monnett in a speech delivered here on Oct. 21, was made public:

Office of the Attorney General,
Washington, D. C., Oct. 25, 1900.
Mr. J. R. Linthicum, Chairman Republican County Committee, Napoleon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of the 23d inst., in which you state that ex-Attorney General Frank S. Monnett, of Ohio, in a Democratic speech at Napoleon on the 22d inst., stated that I, in a letter to him and also in a personal interview with him, said that the reason why the trusts have not been prosecuted was that the President had been inactive and indifferent in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

Unless Mr. Monnett has taken leave of his senses, I cannot believe he ever made such a statement. So far as I can recall, or the records of this department show, I have never written him a letter upon any subject. I am sure that I never wrote him a letter upon the subject of trusts, nor in any wise alluded to the action of this administration with reference thereto. As to his allegation that I made such a statement in a personal interview with him, that is also entirely untrue. I never met Mr. Monnett but once, and that was only for a few minutes, when he called to pay a visit of courtesy, being introduced to me by his predecessor, the present solicitor general, Hon. John K. Richards, of Ohio. I do not think or believe that the subject of trusts, or any other subject, except such as would arise in general conversation upon a visit of this nature, was touched upon. I am sure that I made no such statement as you say Mr. Monnett attributes to me. Nor could I have made such a statement, because it would have been untrue. The attitude and record of this administration on the subject of prosecution under the anti-trust laws are contained in the last annual report of the attorney general to congress, a copy of which is forwarded to you by this mail.

Very respectfully,
John W. Griggs,
Attorney General.

CROWDS AT BUFFALO.

Roosevelt Received a Welcome—Spoke at a Labor Suburb, Also at Meetings in City.

Buffalo, Nov. 1.—The train bearing Governor Roosevelt to this city made a pause at Black Rock, an industrial suburb of Buffalo and the northbound railway center of the city. The governor was accorded a splendid reception at this place and addressed a few remarks to the laboring people.

The streets through which he had to pass on his way from the depot to the city proper were crowded with people.

It had been planned to have the governor hold a reception because of the early hour of his arrival, but he was so fatigued with the day's work that he compromised by addressing the assembled people as a whole.

Governor Roosevelt spoke at three meetings last night, one on the East Side, in the industrial portion of the city, which was an open air affair and where so many people were gathered that less than one-half of them could hear the speaker. Another followed in a small hall, where the major part of the audience was composed of Italians, and the third and last in the immense convention hall, which was filled to the very doors. At this latter place the other traveling orators kept the audience interested for nearly two hours until the governor arrived.

BRYAN SPOKE IN CINCINNATI.

Harmon Presided at Meeting—Nebraskan Spoke at Other Places.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—The Democratic Presidential candidate, W. J. Bryan, made his first speech here last night of the present campaign. He arrived on a special train and went to Music hall, where he talked for about an hour. Hon. Judson Harmon, formerly attorney general under President Cleveland, presided at the meeting and there were many other leading Democrats present.

The day was spent entirely in this state and the itinerary covered the country between this city and Toledo. Beginning with an hour's speech at Toledo at about 10 o'clock, Mr. Bryan spoke in succession at Wauseon, Napoleon, Ottawa, Lima, Wapakoneta, Sidney, Piqua, Troy, Dayton, Hamilton and College Corner. With the exception of the Toledo speech, none of the others of the day exceeded 25 minutes in length, and six of them were of only five minutes' duration each. A majority of the places where stops were made were small towns, and as a rule the crowds were not large. There were, however, fine audiences at Toledo, Wauseon, Piqua, Dayton and College Corner, as well as here.

26 PERSONS MISSING.

Four of These Not Known at Addresses
Given—Tarrant & Co. Liability to Prosecution.

New York, Nov. 1.—A revision made of those persons missing and thought to have perished in the explosion and fire at Tarrant & Co.'s drug house shows 26 unaccounted for. Of this number four are not known at the addresses given by the persons reporting them as missing.

What looks like part of several bodies have been dug out. It begins to look as if what remains in the mass of debris which still cumbers the place will be totally unrecognizable as of human composition, even should the workmen find them.

What was supposed to be parts of bodies taken from the ruins Tuesday night turned out on examination at the morgue to be blackened pieces of melted gum arabic. Again Wednesday another mass was found which the workmen first thought to be human flesh, but is now thought to be melted rubber. The searchers have found in the ruins of the Home Made hotel a number of articles, such as books, a handkerchief, a cigar holder, etc., but whether their owners escaped or not is unknown.

Augustus F. Docherty, of the fire department, in speaking of the cause of the explosion, said:

"The combustibles carried by Tarrant & Co. were largely in excess of what were allowed them under the law, and their permit granted by the fire department, and in consequence of this fact they have violated the law. By violating the terms of the permit they have committed a misdemeanor, which not only vitiates their insurance policies, but renders them criminally liable and responsible for the damage to life and property as a result of the explosion. The fire insurance companies cannot be held for the damage."

YERKES CALLED ON PRESIDENT.

Major and Mrs. McKinley Took a Drive
Other Callers.

Canton, O., Nov. 1.—When the President and Mrs. McKinley returned from a drive the porch was filled with people waiting to see them. John W. Yerkes, Republican candidate for governor of Kentucky, had an extended talk with the President. Samuel W. Taylor, of Urbana, former secretary of state of Ohio, now consul of Glasgow, Scotland, when he left the ship coming home on leave of absence, took a train direct for Canton and had a conference with the President. S. P. Wolcott, former state senator and at present a member of the board of directors of the Mansfield reformatory, talked over some political matters with the President.

Dr. Markbeller, of Chicago, who was to address a Republican meeting in German last night, called to pay his respects. E. W. Colt, a commercial traveler of Norwalk, also called.

He said that he and his friends among the drummers are for the continuance of the present administration.

Jury Instructed to Acquit.

Pittsburg, Nov. 1.—Judge John D. Shafer gave the jury trying Thomas Alexander, on a charge of murdering Alexander Wells, binding instructions to acquit the defendant. There was no evidence against him.

Montenegrins Attacked Austrians.

Vienna, Nov. 1.—A force of Montenegrin troops attacked an Austrian patrol at Kazanci. In the engagement two of the Montenegrins were killed and 10 wounded. The Austrians had two wounded.

Said Bryan Collapsed.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Press says Bryan collapsed, after delivering his speech in the Park theater, Brooklyn, Monday night, but doctors worked with him and he recovered.

JAPAN IS IN LINE.

Unreservedly Accepts Anglo-German Treaty.

FRANCE BALKS ON THIRD ARTICLE.

Cambon Instructed to Say That She Reserves Right to Protect Her Own Interests—United States Accepts All, Except Third—Not Our Concern.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The formal reply of Japan, unreservedly acceding to the terms of the Anglo-German agreement, has been received at the German foreign office.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Politique Coloniale makes the following announcement:

"The French ambassador to Great Britain, M. Paul Cambon, has received instructions to reply to the Anglo-German agreement that France adheres to the principles of the integrity of the Chinese empire and the open door, and that with regard to article 3 she reserves the right to act in such a manner as to safeguard her interests."

Washington, Nov. 1.—The British-German agreement respecting the maintenance of the open door and territorial integrity of China, with the answer of the United States government sent in duplicate to each of the principals to the agreement, was made public by the state department. Mr. Hay's reply to Lord Pauncefote follows:

Department of State, Washington, October 2.

Excellency—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 23d of October, enclosing the text of an agreement between Great Britain and Germany relating to the affairs in China which was signed in London on the 16th instant by the Marquis of Salisbury and the German ambassador on behalf of their respective governments, and inviting the acceptance of the United States of the principles recorded in that agreement. These principles are:

"1. It is a matter of joint and permanent international interest that the ports on the rivers and littoral of China should remain free and open to trade, and to every other legitimate form of economic activity for the nationals of all countries without distinction; and the two governments agree, on their part, to uphold the same for all Chinese territory so far as they can exercise influence.

"2. Her Britannic majesty's government and the imperial German government will not on their part make use of the present compilation to obtain for themselves any territorial advantage on Chinese dominions, and will direct their policy toward maintaining undiminished the territorial condition of the Chinese empire."

The United States have heretofore made known their adoption of both these principles. During the last year this government invited the powers interested in China to join in an expression of views and purposes in the direction of impartial trade with that country and received satisfactory assurances to that effect from all of them. When the recent troubles were at their height this government, on the third of July, made an announcement of its policy regarding impartial trade and the integrity of the Chinese empire, and had the gratification of learning that all the powers held similar views. And since that time the most gratifying harmony has existed among all the nations concerned as to the ends to be pursued, and there has been little divergence of opinion as to the details of the course to be followed.

It is, therefore, with much satisfaction that the President directs me to inform you of the full sympathy of this government with those of her Britannic majesty and the German emperor in the principles set forth in the clauses of the agreement above cited.

The third clause of the agreement provides:

"In case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain under any form whatever such territorial advantages, the two contracting parties reserve to themselves to come to a preliminary understanding as to the eventual steps to be taken for the protection of their own interests in China."

As this clause refers to a reciprocal arrangement between the two high contracting powers, the government of the United States does not regard itself as called upon to express an opinion in respect to it.

John Hay.

A similar note was addressed on the same day by the secretary of state to the imperial German charge d'affaires.

MISSIONARIES CAN GO.

Assistant Secretary Hill Says Protection Will Be Accorded In China as Far as Possible.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Rev. Arthur J. Brown, one of the secretaries of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, received a letter from David J. Hill, assistant secretary of state, in connection with the information that the Rev. A. M. Cunningham and his wife, missionaries at Pekin, were about to return to their post, and requesting that the United States authorities in China be informed of their purpose if, in the judgment of the department, those authorities might interpose any objection to their return to the city.

"The conditions governing access of foreigners to the non-treaty towns of the interior, including Pekin, and their security there," writes Mr. Hill, "will necessarily be considered in the negotiations for a definite settlement between the government and the powers. While it would be premature to open an access to the Chinese interior for our citizens engaged in commercial or professional pursuits, there would seem to be no objection to Mr. Cunningham's return. The United States forces at Tien Tsin and Pekin would doubtless afford him all facilities for his return not in conflict with regulations which may have been adopted regarding the return of foreigners into the city. A copy of this correspondence will be sent to Minister Conger for his information."

MARKING BALLOT.

THE ONLY WAY TO DO IT TO HAVE IT COUNT.

Bryanism Must Not Only Be Defeated, But by So Overwhelming a Vote That It Will Never Raise Its Head in National Politics Again.

Don't mark your cross in front of McKinley's name, if you want to vote for him. Don't mark it in front of Roosevelt's name. You do not vote for the candidate direct, in voting for president, but the presidential electors who will vote for him.

To vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, and have it counted, put your X mark in the circle under the eagle. If you mark it in front of either candidate's name, you will mark it wrong, and your ballot will not be counted. Remember, in the circle under the eagle is the place to mark it good and strong.

Such a mark will vote the entire Republican ticket, and if on any particular candidate you have a desire to do anything else, you should put a mark in front of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote.

But the mark in the circle, under the eagle, is the vote that counts, and is the only way to vote right for president and vice president.

How He Knew.

A ragman who was gathering up wornout clothing in the country purchased a pair of discarded trousers at a farmhouse and remarked to the man of the house as he paid for the stuff he had bought:

"I see, sir, that you are about to lose your land on a mortgage."

"Guess you are right," said the discouraged looking farmer, "but will you tell me how the Sam Hill you found that out?"

"Easy enough," said the cheerful ragman as he settled back on the seat of his peddling wagon. "I notice that these old pants are completely played out so far as the part of 'em you sat down on is concerned, but they show mighty little wear anywhere else."
